MIAMI TRACE GOES TO SUPREME COURT

Home on Snowhill Rd. Destroyed by Fire

Firemen probe the ruins of the ravaged Fred Rhonemus home.

A $20,000 fire destroyed a nine-room frame farm house and left five people homeless Monday night on the Snowhill Rd., just two miles from where another blaze ravaged a barn early Saturday.

Concord-Green Twp. Fire Chief Kenneth Bush said a defective flue was a possible cause of the fire, which leveled the 75-year-old home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rhonemus, their son, Randall, 21, his wife, Betty, 20, and another son, Carl David, 18.

Sheriff Orland Hays said he was not going to request an arson investigation at this time, though he might after discussing the matter further with Deputy Donald Thompson, who investigated the blaze for the Sheriff's Department. Arson "seems unlikely," he commented.

Equipment from the Concord-Green Fire Department and from the Sabina Fire Department worked feverishly during the first hour of their fighting—from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m.—to keep the blaze from spreading to the Rhonemus barn, about 50 feet from the house. Sparks were "flying like crazy," Rhonemus said.

THE CONCORD-GREEN tank truck and pumper, a tanker from Sabina and the new Sabina pumper worked far into the night to extinguish the blaze. A water tank truck from the Fayette County engineer's office aided in the operation.

Rhonemus said he and his wife were downstairs alone about 8 p. m. when he heard something that he thought might be a person on the front porch.

"I went to the door and the yard was all lit up—the noise I heard was the fire," he said.

He and his wife ran out of the house then, at just about the time a neighbor, Marion Waddle, spotted the fire and telephoned the Concord-Green Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhonemus were able to save a few pieces of furniture, but "before very long, the whole house went up," he said.

The Sabina volunteer department was just finishing its weekly drill at the fire house when a call for their help came in over police radio. They rushed to the scene and arrived in time to help save the barn.

RHONEMUS said he carried about $7,000 worth of insurance on the house and goods. Total value of the building and furnishings he estimated at $20,000. His son, Randall, and his wife, married only last June, had no insurance on their property, he said.

Concord-Green Fire Chief Bush said that he had "almost ruled out arson," finding no evidence whatever for such a conclusion at the scene.

"If someone wants to burn down a house he'll usually start it near the bottom," Bush said, explaining "this fire started near the top."

The Staunton-Green department was called out about midnight Saturday to extinguish a fire that destroyed a barn at a farm occupied by C. E. Campbell on the Staunton-Jasper Rd., about two miles from the Rhonemus home.

Postoffice Fund Is Given Final OK by Congress

President Expected To Get $41 Million Measure Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate quickly passed without debate and by voice vote and sent back to the House today a money bill carrying $41 million to restore normal postal services.

The bill had to be returned to the House, which passed it Monday, because the Senate added $800,000 for Senate housekeeping items. However, the House is virtually certain to accept this Senate money without question.

Thus, the measure may be sent on to President Eisenhower before nightfall.

The senators did not take the opportunity either to lambast or defend Postmaster General Summerfield. The House spent several hours doing so Monday afternoon before passing the measure.

The administration had asked for $47 million to carry the department through the remaining 2½ months of this bookkeeping year, but Republican congressional leaders said President Eisenhower is willing to settle for the $41 million.

They reported that after the weekly legislative conference at the White House, saying Eisenhower "recognizes the very practical problems involved."

Eisenhower's attitude was outlined by Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California and House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts after their regular Tuesday conference with the chief executive.

The postoffice's call for emergency money to restore normal mail operations was discussed as the Senate made ready to act on the $41 million appropriation measure approved by the House Monday.

Knowland told a news conference at the White House that he looks for the Senate to get the bill to Eisenhower's desk either tonight or Wednesday morning.

IN ADDITION to the postal money bill passed by the House provides $481 million for other purposes.

In response to questions, both Knowland and Martin expressed belief that the bitterness stirred up in Congress over the postoffice request for additional money and curtailment of mail deliveries last weekend won't jeopardize the administration's chance for winning congressional approval of an increase in postal rates. However prospects for such a rate hike this year appear dim.

Taxpayer Gets $1 Tip Returned

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—An unidentified taxpayer got a dollar back from the Bureau of Internal Revenue even before officials saw his income tax return.

The bureau said the mail brought this letter: "I had my 1956 income tax made out. Now I can't find it. I think I mailed it to you but do not remember for sure. Will you please write and let me know? Get yourself some cigars for looking this up. Thank you."

Enclosed was one dollar. Officials returned the dollar with a note that tips cannot be accepted. They added they would look for the missing return when the files are brought up to date.

76 Teachers Approved

City Schools Need More Classrooms

At least three more emergency classrooms will be needed by the Washington C. H. schools next fall.

This was agreed by the school board at its regular meeting Monday night after a study of the anticipated enrollment for the elementary schools.

After considering several possible locations for the needed classrooms, most of them in churches, the board instructed Supt. W. A. Smith to make an investigation of available suitable rooms and report at the next meeting.

There are now 1,326 pupils in the five elementary schools and eight emergency classrooms. Next fall, the enrollment is expected to increase to 1,401.

The board agreed that, while a minimum of three more classrooms will be needed, four would be better and five the best solution to the growing enrollment problems. However, doubt was expressed that more than three suitable rooms could be found.

The eight emergency, or temporary, classrooms being used are: three in the high school basement; two in Grace Methodist Church; two in the Sunnyside School auditorium and one in the Rose Avenue School basement.

FOUR MORE teachers will be needed, too, for the elementary schools.

The board approved the employment of 39 teachers for the elementary schools and 37 for the high school.

Five recommended for continuing contracts for elementary school positions were Bernice Johnson, Earl Miller, Frances Neff, Hugh Rea and Lillian Sommers.

Seven recommended for limited one-year contracts were Dorothy Giebelhouse, Jocelyn Harper, Martha Meriwether, Laurel Montgomery, Dorothy Pennyl, Louise Townsend and Martha Trench.

The 27 who hold continuing contracts in the elementary schools are Versa Angus, Louella Campbell, Amelia Child, Marian Christopher, Dorothy Crone, Mary Crone, Clara Davis, Lucille Davis, Martha Durant, Dorothy Everhart, Margaret Gibson, Mary Gillespie, Ruth Hopkins, Marie Hughes, Jean King, Florence Lust, Edith Parsley, Nell Paul, Ellen Pensyl, Olive Prosch, Ruth Rider, Helen Skaggs, Ruth Teeters, Edna Watts, Priscilla White, Leo Whiteside and Virginia Whiteside.

Of the 37 teachers recommended for the high school, four were approved for continuing contracts. They were Clyde Cramer, Arthur Engle, Kathleen Scott and Anne Stinson.

Fifteen recommended for one-year contracts were Alice Decker, Fred Domenico, Nada Douce, Richard Filbin, Jane Grillo, Sara Hagerty, Grace Iden, Donald Moore, Edwin Nestor, Robert Neumann, Robert Parrett, Isabelle Reid, Herbert Russell, Virginia Smith and Dorothy White.

The 18 high school teachers who hold continuing contracts are Ethel Arnold, Frederick Cluff, Marjorie Evans, Charles Glover, Madon a Gordon, Helen Hutson, Stanley Johnson, Denzil Leggett, Faye Mayo, Gladys Nelson, Loreah O'Brian, Ruth Stecher, Harry Townsend, Jane Trent, G. V. Vance, Jack White, Harry Wirtler and James York.

ONE MORE TEACHER is needed in the high school because of the increasing enrollment in the industrial arts department headed by Vance. The increase, it was explained, is due largely to a growing interest in the subject and the expanded program, designed to take in junior high school students.

The board accepted—and emphasized it was with regret—the resignation of Mrs. Hopkins as principal of the Eastside School. It also instructed the clerk to express in a letter to Mrs. Hopkins its appreciation of her contribution, both as principal and teacher, to the education of the hundreds of young people who

Teamster Union Chiefs Meeting In Texas Hotel

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Dave Beck and the Teamsters Union executive committee were meeting here today with five attorneys.

From the conference in this resort city's oldest hotel was expected to come the embattled union's strategy for answering congressional and AFL-CIO attacks.

Beck called the conference amid conflicting reports the committee would back him to the man or would attempt to strip him of his tight-fisted control over one of the world's largest labor unions.

The 62-year-old Beck, accused of using $320,000 in union funds for personal projects, made it clear he has no plans of stepping aside voluntarily.

"I'm not planning to retire although I would be money ahead if I did," he said. He offered no explanation but apparently had in mind the $50,000-a-year pension, the same as his current salary, he reportedly would receive upon retirement.

BECK SAID he would have no statement to make immediately, but reported he would "blow the lid right off the Senate" if he told what happened to the union funds. He said, "A lot of fine people would be embarrassed," adding that he was "taking the rap" while refusing to answer questions at the recent Senate hearings.

Earlier he said he will seek another five-year term as president at the Teamsters' convention.

A known rival for the job, James R. Hoffa, one of the union's most influential vice presidents, sat across the conference table today from Beck.

Hoffa, however, is having troubles of his own. The Detroit Teamster executive is under indictment for bribing a member of a Senate investigating committee staff.

Only one of the 13 executive committeemen was missing today. He was John J. Conlin, Jersey City vice president, who is ill.

Labor lawyers present were Gerald Trainer, Washington, D.C.; Jack Wiley, St. Louis; Ed Davis, Philadelphia; David Previant, Milwaukee; and L.N.D. Wells Jr., Dallas.

William T. Mullenholz, the union's comptroller from Washington, also was in attendance.

This left the 18-member conference lineup this way: Beck, 10 vice presidents, the union's secretary-treasurer, the comptroller and five attorneys.

Suit Asks Ohio Tribunal Order Sale of Bonds

Clerk Defendant In Friendly Action To Clarify Status

The Miami Trace Board of Education Monday asked the Ohio Supreme Court to order the board's clerk, Mrs. Senath Thompson, to issue and sell $1,652,500 worth of school bonds voted by the district last November.

In the language of the mandamus action, the board alleges that Mrs. Thompson refused to act toward sale of the bonds, although members of the Miami Trace board explained to a Record-Herald representative that the action is a "friendly" suit to clarify the status of the bond issue vote.

The suit was filed by Miss Grace Fern Heck, of Springfield, the board's attorney.

TAYLOR GROFF, Miami Trace board president said the board took the action directly into the Supreme Court because it wants to know whether it can go ahead legally with sale of the bonds or whether it must wait while a Citizens Committee discusses the city-county school situation as a whole.

Litigation which previously clouded both the Miami Trace and Washington C. H. bond issues ended last February in creation of the Citizens Committee.

"We're going to be in a bad way as far as housing our pupils is concerned if we have to wait a year or so," Groff said.

THE BOND ISSUE, approved by Miami Trace voters by a majority of nearly 58 per cent, was to purchase land for a new high school at Eber, construct the building and rehabilitate existing buildings.

At the same time, Washington C. H. School District voters approved by a 60 per cent vote a $645,000 bond issue to provide additional classroom space for city elementary pupils.

The city board voted after election to hold up sale of the bonds after its attorney advised against offering them until matters in connection with the Citizens Committee are further clarified.

Accused Robber Is Freed by Judge

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Carson Hoy has acquitted a Cincinnati man on charges of armed robbery, ruling that the state failed to establish "necessary" guilt.

Robert L. Griffin, 23, was freed in criminal court here Monday. He was accused of taking $120 from Herschell McDaniel, 20, in a filling station holdup. Griffin's girl friend testified he was with her at the time of the holdup.

He Dances Gay Jig On 103rd Birthday,

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It wasn't just an ordinary third wedding anniversary for John Wesley Beard Monday. It also was his 103rd birthday.

And if that wasn't enough, he danced a jig, enrolled his 72-year-old wife Mertle for Social Security benefits and blew out three candles on a cake presented by the Social Security Administration district office.

She just became eligible after three years of marriage. He explained his few sprightly steps this way: "Wherever I hear music I just can't keep my feet still."

Boy Is Stabbed In Gang Fight

WARREN (AP)—One boy was hospitalized in "satisfactory" condition with a stab wound in the back and another was "fair" with a fractured skull after a gang fight Monday among 14 youths.

Police jailed five other boys after the fight in which knives, steel clubs and boards were used. Cause of the fight was not learned.

11 Ships Caught In Lake Ice Jam

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—A convoy of 11 vessels, upbound into Lake Superior, was reported icebound today about six miles out of Sault Ste. Marie in ice-packed Whitefish Bay.

Four icebreakers, including the Coast Guard's Mackinaw, battled the four-to-eight-foot layers of wind-rovied ice, piled by a north-west wind that has laced the bay area in the last week.

Cmdr. E. J. Bodenloss of the Coast Guard, said although the wind has shifted to the south and temperatures were warmer Monday the ice still is jamming and packing badly. He described conditions as "very bad."

Jordan Leftists Object of Purge

AMMAN (AP)—Jordan's new Cabinet is expected to press a swift, thorough cleanup of pro-Communist elements in the government and school system.

Observers also looked for King Hussein, flushed with his military victory over leftist leaders, to invite James P. Richards, President Eisenhower's special envoy, to Amman to explain the President's Middle East doctrine.

There was no clear indication, however, that Jordan would subscribe to the American plan aimed at halting Communist penetration of the Middle East.

With the formation of a regime purged of Communists and extremists, Hussein emerged from the six-day crisis with new strength and stature. A dramatic display of loyalty by tough Bedouin troops of the Arab Legion turned the tide.

The Bedouins swarmed into the capital Monday from strategic positions surrounding Amman. Security police loyal to the young monarch also were out in force with riot equipment.

BOLSTERED by this support, Hussein summoned all former prime ministers, senators and some deputies to the palace. They emerged after three hours with a seven-man government headed by Hussein Fakhri Khalidi, 61-year-old former foreign minister who has shown sympathies toward the West.

Sworn in with him were five other moderates. The seventh Cabinet member is Suleiman Nabulsi, head of the Big National Socialist party and premier of the anti-Western government Hussein threw out last week.

Nabulsi's inclusion as foreign minister and communications minister indicated the King still had to depend to some extent on support from the former Premier's party, which controls 13 of the 40 seats in parliament.

Officials said privately the "shotgun" cabinet should last long enough to clean out leftists permeating the government administration and schools. The purge already was begun.

It was not certain whether it would bring out street mobs that could cause another crisis. It was believed the next 24 hours might be decisive. Most observers felt, however, that any leftist demonstrations would be quelled.

Indicative of a return to normalcy, censorship on outgoing news dispatches was lifted.

No Opener Missed Since Back in '93

CINCINNATI (AP)—Charlie Shaw played hooky from school to see the Redlegs' opening game. That was in 1893 and he hasn't missed a first season game since.

But Shaw, 74, had trouble getting a ticket for today's sellout Redleg opener against St. Louis Cardinals. Finally fellow workers at the county auditor's office located the prized ticket.

Shaw made no excuses for requesting time off today. On his request, he said, "Half-day off. Ball game."

Cancer Victim Finds Death Sooner than He Expected

DETROIT (AP)—Leonard Kerschke kept his rendezvous with death sooner than he expected.

There were many things he planned to do.

He had written one article for the Associated Press on what his reactions were when the doctor told him Jan. 31 he couldn't expect to live much longer than six months.

He thought there was plenty of time to write several more.

But time ran out for the 27-year-old Kerschke. He died Monday night of the inoperable cancer that had spread from his groin to his lungs.

Kerschke was working on a second article when his condition worsened. Saturday night his breathing became labored. He was taken to the Brent General Hospital.

Kerschke was stricken just as he was starting a new career as a gymnasium instructor with the Detroit Department of Parks.

HE HAD ALWAYS enjoyed health until last fall when he first noted symptoms of a backache. At Christmastime he developed symptoms of pleurisy and pneumonia. In January he entered a hospital for observation.

An exploratory operation disclosed the malignant cancer that was to take his life.

Leonard was happy to be home with his wife, Athylene, and 1-year-old daughter Darlene. His wife's parents had taken some of the burden off Mrs. Kerschke by caring for little Valerie, who was born Feb. 2.

Leonard gave the impression of being a religious man.

On a stand at the head of his bed was a Bible.

"It was a shock to me when I was told that I had only six months to live," he said. "My first thought was of family and then the thought flashed through my mind of Christ in the Garden of Gethsemane and what he said: 'Thy will be done, not mine.'"

To Bingo or Not To Bingo, That's the Issue

COLUMBUS (AP)—To bingo or not to bingo again has become such a heated issue in Ohio that there appears to be necessity for some research.

The new governor, C. William O'Neill, broke the old dispute wide open a few days ago when he declared flatly:

"Bingo is illegal in Ohio and it is up to local officials to enforce the law. I think court cases have outlawed bingo in Ohio."

Since that time, the telephone companies have reaped a harvest as worried local officials have made call after call to O'Neill and Atty. Gen. William Saxbe. Boiled down, the questions amount to:

"What's the score?"
Let's begin at the beginning. Bingo is defined as the equivalent of beano.

Beano is defined as the same as keno. And, the dictionary tells you keno is the same as lotto.

A persistent dictionary reader finally gets down to business on the definition of lotto: It's a "game of chance played with numbered cards."

By whatever name you call it, the game works this way: The players buy numbered cards. The person running the game calls out a series of numbers. Whenever a number is called which appears anywhere on his card, the player places a marker on it.

When a player finally completes one row of numbers on his card—up and down or across—he calls: "Bingo!" Of course, if he's playing keno, he calls: "Keno!"

The first person who, by chance, has the legitimate right to yip out the name of the game is the winner. He gets a cash or merchandise prize.

Now comes the key question: Is bingo, under any circumstances, legal in Ohio?

First, let's open the book at Article XV, Section 6, of the Ohio Constitution, the basic law of the state. It's rather definite:

"Lotteries, and the sale of lottery tickets, for any purpose whatever, shall forever be prohibited in this state."

Now we flip over about 700 pages in the same book until we find Section 2915.10 of the Revised Code. It's somewhat less definite:

"No person, for his own profit, shall vend, sell, barter, or dispose of a ticket, order or device for or representing a number of shares or an interest in a lottery or scheme of chance, by whatever name, style or title. Whoever violates this section shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than 90 days, or both."

What's that phrase "for his own profit" doing in there since the constitution prohibits lotteries "for any purpose whatever?"

That is good question.

The 1943 Legislature inserted the phrase "for his own profit" in an effort to legalize gambling to raise funds for charity.

There never has been a direct test of that phrase in the Ohio Supreme Court, but the court seized the chance on a closely related case in 1953 to go on record with this observation:

"The Ohio General Assembly has no authority to legalize, either directly or indirectly, lotteries in any form."

The court was striking directly at the legal theory that the Legislature, by removing from state law any penalty for conducting charitable gambling, had legalized it indirectly. The court added:

"Prescribing a specific penalty for the operation of a gambling transaction for one's own profit does not by indirectness legalize the same transaction if carried on not for profit."

In that same decision the high court ruled in the case before it that a city has a perfect right to adopt an ordinance making it a

Suit Asks Ohio Tribunal Order Sale of Bonds

Clerk Defendant In Friendly Action To Clarify Status

The Miami Trace Board of Education Monday asked the Ohio Supreme Court to order the board's clerk, Mrs. Senath Thompson, to issue and sell $1,652,500 worth of school bonds voted by the district last November.

In the language of the mandamus action, the board alleges that Mrs. Thompson refused to act toward sale of the bonds, although members of the Miami Trace board explained to a Record-Herald representative that the action is a "friendly" suit to clarify the status of the bond issue vote.

The suit was filed by Miss Grace Fern Heck, of Springfield, the board's attorney.

TAYLOR GROFF, Miami Trace board president said the board took the action directly into the Supreme Court because it wants to know whether it can go ahead legally with sale of the bonds or whether it must wait while a Citizens Committee discusses the city-county school situation as a whole.

Litigation which previously clouded both the Miami Trace and Washington C. H. bond issues ended last February in creation of the Citizens Committee.

"We're going to be in a bad way as far as housing our pupils is concerned if we have to wait a year or so," Groff said.

THE BOND ISSUE, approved by Miami Trace voters by a majority of nearly 58 per cent, was to purchase land for a new high school at Eber, construct the building and rehabilitate existing buildings.

At the same time, Washington C. H. School District voters approved by a 60 per cent vote a $645,000 bond issue to provide additional classroom space for city elementary pupils.

The city board voted after election to hold up sale of the bonds after its attorney advised against offering them until matters in connection with the Citizens Committee are further clarified.

11 Ships Caught In Lake Ice Jam

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—A convoy of 11 vessels, upbound into Lake Superior, was reported icebound today about six miles out of Sault Ste. Marie in ice-packed Whitefish Bay.

Four icebreakers, including the Coast Guard's Mackinaw, battled the four-to-eight-foot layers of wind-eroded ice, piled by a north-west wind that has laced the bay area in the last week.

Cmdr. E. J. Bodenloss of the Coast Guard, said although the wind has shifted to the south and temperatures were warmer Monday the ice still is jamming and packing badly. He described conditions as "very bad."

Cancer Victim Finds Death Sooner than He Expected

DETROIT (AP)—Leonard Kerschke kept his rendezvous with death sooner than he expected.

There were many things he planned to do.

He had written one article for the Associated Press on what the reactions were when the doctor told him Jan. 31 he couldn't expect to live much longer than six months.

He thought there was plenty of time to write several more.

But time ran out for the 27-year-old Kerschke. He died Monday night of the inoperable cancer that had spread from his groin to his lungs.

Kerschke was working on a second article when his condition worsened. Saturday night his breathing became labored. He was taken to the Brent General Hospital.

Kerschke was stricken just as he was starting a new career as a gymnasium instructor with the Detroit Department of Parks.

Jordan Leftists Object of Purge

AMMAN (AP)—Jordan's new Cabinet is expected to press a swift, thorough cleanup of pro-Communist elements in the government and school system.

Observers also looked for King Hussein, flushed with his military victory over leftist leaders, to invite James P. Richards, President Eisenhower's special envoy, to Amman to explain the President's Middle East doctrine.

There was no clear indication, however, that Jordan would subscribe to the American plan aimed at halting Communist penetration of the Middle East.

With the formation of a regime purged of Communists and extremists, Hussein emerged from the six-day crisis with new strength and stature. A dramatic display of loyalty by tough Bedouin troops of the Arab Legion turned the tide.

The Bedouins swarmed into the capital Monday from strategic positions surrounding Amman. Security police loyal to the young monarch also were out in force with riot equipment.

BOLSTERED by this support, Hussein summoned all former prime ministers, senators and some deputies to the palace. They emerged after three hours with a seven-man government headed by Hussein Fakhri Khalidi, 61-year-old former foreign minister who has shown sympathies toward the West.

Sworn in with him were five other moderates. The seventh Cabinet member is Suleiman Nabulsi, head of the big National Socialist party and premier of the anti-Western government Hussein threw out last week.

Nabulsi's inclusion as foreign minister and communications minister indicated the King still had to depend to some extent on support from the former Premier's party, which controls 13 of the 40 seats in parliament.

Officials said privately the "shotgun" cabinet should last long enough to clean out leftists permeating the government administration and schools. The purge already was begun.

It was not certain whether it would bring out street mobs that could cause another crisis. It was believed the next 24 hours might be decisive. Most observers felt, however, that any leftist demonstrations would be quelled.

Indicative of a return to normalcy, censorship on outgoing news dispatches was lifted.

No Opener Missed Since Back in '93

CINCINNATI (AP)—Charlie Shaw played hockey from school to see the Redlegs' opening game. That was in 1893 and he hasn't missed a first season game since.

But Shaw, 74, had trouble getting a ticket for today's sellout Redleg opener against St. Louis Cardinals. Finally fellow workers at the county auditor's office located the prized ticket.

Shaw made no excuses for requesting time off today. On his request, he said, "Half-day off. Ball game."

COLUMBUS (AP)—To bingo or not to bingo again has become such a heated issue in Ohio that there appears to be necessity for some research.

The new governor, C. William O'Neill, broke the old dispute wide open a few days ago when he declared flatly:

"Bingo is illegal in Ohio and it is up to local officials to enforce the law. I think court cases have outlawed bingo in Ohio."

Since that time, the telephone companies have reaped a harvest as worried local officials have made call after call to O'Neill and Atty. Gen. William Saxbe. Boiled down, the questions amount to:

"What's the score?"

Let's begin at the beginning. Bingo is defined as the equivalent of beano.

Beano is defined as the same as keno. And, the dictionary tells you keno is the same as lotto.

A persistent dictionary reader finally gets down to business on the definition of lotto: It's a "game of chance played with numbered cards."

By whatever name you call it, the game works this way: The players buy numbered cards. The person running the game calls out a series of numbers. Whenever a number is called which appears anywhere on his card, the player places a marker on it.

When a player finally completes one row of numbers on his card—up and down or across—he calls:

"Bingo!" Of course, if he's playing keno, he calls: "Keno!"

The first person who, by chance, has the legitimate right to yip out the name of the game is the winner. He gets a cash or merchandise prize.

Now comes the key question: Is bingo, under any circumstances, legal in Ohio?

First, let's open the book at Article XV, Section 6, of the Ohio Constitution, the basic law of the state. It's rather definite:

"Lotteries, and the sale of lottery tickets, for any purpose whatever, shall forever be prohibited in this state."

Now we flip over about 700 pages in the same book until we find Section 2915.10 of the Revised Code. It's somewhat less definite:

"No person, for his own profit, shall vend, sell, barter, or dispose of a ticket, order or device for or representing a number of shares or an interest in a lottery or scheme of chance, by whatever name, style or title. Whoever violates this section shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than 90 days, or both."

What's that phrase "for his own profit" doing in there since the constitution prohibits lotteries "for any purpose whatever"?

That is good question.

The 1943 Legislature inserted the phrase "for his own profit" in an effort to legalize gambling to raise funds for charity.

There never has been a direct test of that phrase in the Ohio Supreme Court, but the court seized the chance on a closely related case in 1953 to go on record with this observation:

"The Ohio General Assembly has no authority to legalize, either directly or indirectly, lotteries in any form."

The court was striking directly at the legal theory that the Legislature, by removing from state law any penalty for conducting charitable gambling, had legalized it indirectly. The court added:

"Prescribing a specific penalty for the operation of a gambling transaction for one's own profit does not by indirectness legalize the same transaction if carried on not for profit."

In that same decision the high court ruled in the case before it that a city has a perfect right to adopt an ordinance making it a

Hospital Board Hears Reports

Expansion Program Brought Step Nearer

Robert Mace, who was appointed to the Memorial Hospital board of trustees last week, took the seat left vacant by Eugene Smith for his first board meeting Monday night. Smith resigned from the board because of his health and the pressure of his own affairs. A resolution expressing appreciation of the contribution he made to the administration of the hospital was spread on the board's minutes of the meeting.

Although the board discussed the proposed expansion of the hospital, most of the meeting was devoted to routine matters, including the authorization for the payment of bills.

Earl Serbu of the state Department of Taxation made his report to the board on his recent audit of the hospital books and records of its operation. He summed it up with the statement that all monies had been accounted for.

GEORGE PENNYL, president of the board, and Miss Christine Evans, hospital administrator, were delegated to meet with the county commissioners next Monday to discuss with them the procedure for submitting a bond issue proposal to the voters next November for the hospital building program.

The administrator's report for March showed: 273 admissions; 52 babies born; 2,124 patient days; 78 the greatest number of patients for one day; 53 the fewest number of patients for one day; 59 major operations; 55 minor operations; 2,389 laboratory examinations; 889 X-ray examinations; 539 out patients; 32,609 pounds of laundry and 8,610 meals served.

WHS Students Get Recognition At Music Festival

Several Washington C. H. high school students share the musical limelight today for their performance at the Ohio State Music Festival in Bexley Saturday.

Jenner 'Assumes' Ike To Back Him

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) said today he "assumes" he will have the support of President Eisenhower in his bid for reelection next year.

Jenner, Sen. Malone (R-Nev.) and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) were the only three Republicans who voted against Senate passage of the Eisenhower Middle East resolution. The three have been less critical of Eisenhower's domestic policies.

In response to questions about the three senators at an Oct. 11 news conference, Eisenhower said "I can't look to them for help" in getting his legislative program approved by Congress.

Third Charge Filed Against Oregon Mayor

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A third charge was filed against Mayor Terry Schrunk Monday night as five spoils of tape recordings embroiled men on both sides of a vice controversy in Portland.

The 44-year-old mayor, previously accused of taking a bribe and of lying when he denied receiving the bribe, was charged with making copies of the tape recordings after seizing them in a raid last year.

That was when he was sheriff. He said earlier he had made the copies in case the originals were destroyed or stolen.

A grand jury said the recordings contained conversations obtained through illegal wiretaps, and that making copies of them was as illegal as making the originals.

The same spoils have the mayor's enemy, Gambler Big Jim Elkins, 55, under indictment. He is accused in federal court of making the originals.

Also scheduled to go into court today is Dist. Atty. William Langley, 41, who was convicted last weekend of failing to prosecute gamblers. He will move for a new trial.

Langley and the mayor assert they are victims of a frameup by Elkins.

All three earlier were witnesses in Washington, D. C., before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Pennsy Railmen Taking Strike Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of the Transport Workers Union in 60-odd locals are taking a strike vote against the Pennsylvania Railroad in a dispute over work assignments.

Balloting is scheduled to end Friday. About 25,000 maintenance employees are involved.

The strike vote stems from an agreement signed by the railroad with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (Ind.). The agreement provides that trainmen receive extra pay for coupling. The vote is being conducted in 13 eastern states.

Frequent Vacations For Executives Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Top executives of Bart Schwartz International Textiles Ltd. are going to get every seventh week off. They'll have to take the vacations with pay whether they want to or not, starting May 1.

Announced aim of the mandatory program: To cut down the number of heart attacks, strokes and ulcers among executives in key textile jobs.

Non-executive employees will continue to get the regular paid two-week vacation once a year.

City School Board

have gone through the Eastside School.

Mrs. Hopkins had explained to the board that she wanted to be relieved of the additional work as principal, but agreed to continue in the school system as teacher.

The consensus of the board was that, in view of Mrs. Hopkins' fine record, her preference for the school in which she will teach should be given every consideration.

SEVERAL questions were brought up for discussion and recommended for further study.

Among them was a suggestion that additional teachers be employed to free principals for half-day supervision. One teacher, it was pointed out, could serve two schools by taking the principals' classes for half a day.

Another suggestion was for a diversified cooperative training program under which students would spend part of their time in class and part in industries.

However, the board did adopt a resolution calling for men principals in all of the elementary schools. Men are now principals in three of them: Hugh Rea at Rose Avenue, Leo Whiteside at Sunnyside and Earl Miller at Cherry Hill. Miss Helen Skaggs is principal at Central and Mrs. Hopkins has served many years as principal at Eastside.

A school calendar for 1957-58 was approved. It calls for 178 teaching days.

According to the calendar, schools will not be in session during the Central Ohio Teachers Assn. meeting Oct. 25; Christmas holidays Dec. 23 through Jan. 1; and Spring vacation April 4-7.

THE BOARD turned thumbs down on one request for the use of Gardner Park for Sunday afternoon football games in the Pony League and another for the purchase of a bassoon and an alto clarinet for the band was rejected.

While most of the band members buy their own instruments, the school has bought some of the larger and more expensive ones for use by the students. In turning down this request, it was emphasized that the action was not to be considered establishment of a permanent policy. The lowest of the five bids for the bassoon was $451 and for the clarinet $242.

The Athletic Board's budget of $6,472.28 for football next fall had been reduced by $2,715.81 from the 1956 budget of $9,188.09. The 1957 budget listed 23 items of expense, the largest of which was for $1,419.28 for equipment and supplies. Of the 1956 budget there were 21 items of expense, the largest of which was for $3,112.30 for equipment and supplies.

A detailed inventory of equipment and supplies amounting to $13,659.35 was given to the board by coach Fred Domenico with the budget.

After discussing briefly the outlook for the building program and the prospects for solution of the overall school problems of the county by the Citizens Committee, the board authorized the payment of bills amounting to $43,083.54, including the March 30 payroll of $34,150.51.

Lancaster Hospital Asked Oust Geer

LANCASTER (AP)—The board of governors of the Lancaster - Fairfield hospital has been asked to dismiss Dr. Joseph A. Geer from the hospital staff.

Dr. Geer was placed on two years' probation and ordered to resign as Fairfield County coroner after pleading guilty last week to 13 counts of writing false narcotics prescriptions.

The hospital's 10-man medical board, by a split vote, Monday recommended Dr. Geer's dismissal. The recommendation was sent to the board of governors, but the board, with authority to hire and fire, has set no date to consider the case.

Jenner 'Assumes' Ike To Back Him

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) said today he "assumes" he will have the support of President Eisenhower in his bid for reelection next year.

Jenner, Sen. Malone (R-Nev.) and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) were the only three Republicans who voted against Senate passage of the Eisenhower Middle East resolution. The three have been less critical of Eisenhower's domestic policies.

In response to questions about the three senators at an Oct. 11 news conference, Eisenhower said "I can't look to them for help" in getting his legislative program approved by Congress.

Third Charge Filed Against Oregon Mayor

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A third charge was filed against Mayor Terry Schunk Monday night as five spools of tape recordings embroiled men on both sides of a vice controversy in Portland.

The 44-year-old mayor, previously accused of taking a bribe and of lying when he denied receiving the bribe, was charged with making copies of the tape recordings after seizing them in a raid last year.

That was when he was sheriff. He said earlier he had made the copies in case the originals were destroyed or stolen.

A grand jury said the recordings contained conversations obtained through illegal wiretaps, and that making copies of them was as illegal as making the originals.

The same spools have the mayor's enemy, Gambler Big Jim Elkins, 55, under indictment. He is accused in federal court of making the originals.

Selection of a jury for the Elkins trial started today.

Also scheduled to go into court today is Dist. Atty. William Langley, 41, who was convicted last weekend of failing to prosecute gamblers. He will move for a new trial.

Langley and the mayor assert they are victims of a frameup by Elkins.

All three earlier were witnesses in Washington, D. C., before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Pennsy Railmen Taking Strike Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of the Transport Workers Union in 60-odd locals are taking a strike vote against the Pennsylvania Railroad in a dispute over work assignments.

Balloting is scheduled to end Friday. About 25,000 maintenance employees are involved.

The strike vote stems from an agreement signed by the railroad with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (Ind.). The agreement provides that trainmen receive extra pay for coupling. The vote is being conducted in 13 eastern states.

Frequent Vacations For Executives Set

NEW YORK (AP)—Top executives of Bart Schwartz International Textiles Ltd. are going to get every seventh week off. They'll have to take the vacations with pay whether they want to or not, starting May 1.

Announced aim of the mandatory program: To cut down the number of heart attacks, strokes and ulcers among executives in key textile jobs.

Non-executive employees will continue to get the regular paid two-week vacation once a year.

VIENNA (AP)—New measures are necessary in Hungary "to wipe out the counter-revolution," Communist Foreign Minister Imre Horvath declared today.

City School Board

have gone through the Eastside School.

Mrs. Hopkins had explained to the board that she wanted to be relieved of the additional work as principal, but agreed to continue in the school system as teacher.

The consensus of the board was that, in view of Mrs. Hopkins' fine record, her preference for the school in which she will teach should be given every consideration.

SEVERAL questions were brought up for discussion and recommended for further study.

Among them was a suggestion that additional teachers be employed to free principals for half-day supervision. One teacher, it was pointed out, could serve two schools by taking the principals' classes for half a day.

Another suggestion was for a diversified cooperative training program under which students would spend part of their time in class and part in industries.

However, the board did adopt a resolution calling for men principals in all of the elementary schools. Men are now principals in three of them: Hugh Rea at Rose Avenue, Leo Whiteside at Sunnyside and Earl Miller at Cherry Hill. Miss Helen Skaggs is principal at Central and Mrs. Hopkins has served many years as principal at Eastside.

A school calendar for 1957-58 was approved. It calls for 178 teaching days.

According to the calendar, schools will not be in session during the Central Ohio Teachers Assn. meeting Oct. 25; Christmas holidays Dec. 23 through Jan. 1; and Spring vacation April 4-7.

THE BOARD turned thumbs down on one request for the use of Gardner Park for Sunday afternoon football games in the Pony League and another for the purchase of a bassoon and an alto clarinet for the band was rejected.

While, most of the band members buy their own instruments, the school has bought some of the larger and more expensive ones for use by the students. In turning down this request, it was emphasized that the action was not to be considered establishment of a permanent policy. The lowest of the five bids for the bassoon was $451 and for the clarinet $242.

The Athletic Board's budget of $6,472.28 for football next fall was approved. This 1957 budget had been reduced by $2,715.81 from the 1956 budget of $9,188.09. The 1957 budget listed 23 items of expense, the largest of which was for $1,419.28 for equipment and supplies. On the 1956 budget there were 21 items of expense, the largest of which was for $3,112.30 for equipment and supplies.

A detailed inventory of equipment and supplies amounting to $13,659.35 was given to the board by coach Fred Domenico with the budget.

After discussing briefly the outlook for the building program and the prospects for a solution of the overall school problems of the county by the Citizens Committee, the board authorized the payment of bills amounting to $43,083.54, including the March 30 payroll of $34,150.51.

Lancaster Hospital Asked Out Geer

LANCASTER (AP)—The board of governors of the Lancaster - Fairfield hospital has been asked to dismiss Dr. Joseph A. Geer from the hospital staff.

Dr. Geer was placed on two years' probation and ordered to resign as Fairfield County coroner after pleading guilty last week to 13 counts of writing false narcotics prescriptions.

The hospital's 10-man medical board, by a split vote, Monday recommended Dr. Geer's dismissal. The recommendation was sent to the board of governors, but the board, with authority to hire and fire, has set no date to consider the case.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

When George Pensyl had a huge American flag spread on his lawn one day recently, it was not long until I received a telephone call asking for information about it.

So I contacted George at his jewelry store, and learned that the flag was 18 by 24 feet, and had been given to him by his son, Eddie, for the Fayette County Historical Society.

The big flag seems to have been stored in a basement at the Paul Robinson home. Recent high waters flooded the basement, so the flag was spread on the lawn to dry.

It is one of the largest flags in this part of Ohio, and Pensyl is endeavoring to learn its history.

VETERAN OFFICER

Frank L. Hard, 1026 Briar Ave., is nearing completion of 42 years in the service of the Division of Wildlife Department of Natural Resources.

Frank was Fayette County's first game warden, as they were formerly called, but for the past 28 years has been division superintendent, and his division includes 18 south-central Ohio counties.

At the present time he has some 40 officers under his supervision, including game and fish management officials and county game protectors.

During his many years of service, much of it in the field, Frank has encountered some dangerous hunters who objected to being arrested and their guns seized, and more than once he has been threatened by trigger-happy, half-drunk individuals. In other words, he has had some narrow escapes.

However when force was necessary he used it, and when diplomacy was necessary he used that. But he always took his man into the courts for punishment for violating the hunting on fishing laws.

When Frank was still quite young his father sought to have him learn the lumber business at the Coffman Lumber Yards here, but after three years of work there Frank decided that was not what he wanted to do. He quit and took up work at the Palace Cigar Store with Wood Boyer and later Alex Campbell.

He had always been interested in wildlife and conservation work, so he applied for a position in that field and has been going strong in the work ever since.

His promotion to his present job, and the one he has held so long, came as a result of merit shown in the discharge of his duties, and he has a voice in the higher ranks of Division of Wildlife officials as a counsellor of experience.

FIRST WIRE FENCES

It has been upward of 60 years since the first wire fences were built in Fayette County, and that was before woven wire fences were thought of.

The first wire fences were built by stringing some eight strands of wire, with the top wires heavier than the lower ones, with posts a rod apart. To these wires were stapled pickets every three or four feet.

There were two-end posts with wooden braces between them, and a heavy timber was set back of the end post. Two or three heavy coil springs were placed between the timber and end post to take care of contraction and expansion during weather changes.

I helped build such a fence, one of the first wire fences in northern Fayette County, on the William J. Selsor farm, between the Selsor farm and Joseph Rodgers' land.

I was just a boy, and my job, after the wires were strung and nailed to the post, was to hold a pole ax against the pickets while a man on the other side drove small staples into them to hold the wires.

I recall that I received 50 cents a day for that job, and that was double the first money I ever made, which was for hauling hayshocks for a neighbor.

The advantages of the wire fences over the old rail "worm" or stake-and-ride fences were quickly realized, as the wire fences occupy only a small space while it was necessary to leave a "fence row" some 10 to 12 feet in width when the old type rail fences were used, so that the increased land available for farming soon paid for the new type of fencing.

At first, common oak posts were used for building wire fences, and these decayed after a few years. Black locust posts were then substituted, and later concrete and steel posts were used.

The W. W. Wilson and Son's Concrete Post plant on Elm St., was one of the first plants of its kind in the county.

HOLDUP RECALLED

Residents of the Cisco community, a former station on the CH&D railroad on the Boyd-Cisco Rd. still recall a daring holdup which took place in Billy Barr's store one night some 30 years ago.

Billy had his head in a cracker barrel scooping some crackers from the bottom of the barrel when two men with pistols walked into the store, and commanded the three or four customers to remain quiet or they would be shot.

When Billy came out of the cracker barrel and saw what was taking place, he did not protest until one of the gunmen started to tap the till of the Post Office in the store, then he said:

"Don't take that money. It belongs to the government, and you had better not touch it."

This did not deter the gunman from looting Uncle Sam's till along with the cash drawer of the store, and the pockets of the customers.

I recall the holdup, and one of the men who had faced the 32 calibre pistol drawn on him declared:

"When he turned that gun on me

'Dual-Dual' Construction Planned for City Freeways

COLUMBUS (AP)—Sections of Ohio's new freeways serving industrial areas outside Cleveland, Cincinnati and Dayton will have six or more lanes, Highway Chief Charles Noble reports.

Those sections totaling about 40 miles over the state, will be known as "dual-dual highways," a new term applied to thoroughfares with extra median strips for additional safety.

Noble explained that in addition to the conventional median strip, or divider, separating traffic moving in opposite directions on four-lane highways, the dual-dual sections will have additional median strips to separate lanes of traffic moving in the same direction.

Thus a dual-dual highway will have at least three median strips. Ohio will be the second state in the nation to have dual-dual highways, Noble said. New Jersey has a section on U. S. 1 between Elizabeth and Newark.

Noble, former New Jersey Turnpike engineer, was brought to Ohio to direct Gov. C. William O'Neill's highway construction program.

Another feature of the dual-dual highways will be "slots" slanting across the extra median strips so that motorists can move from outside lanes for slower vehicles into faster inside lanes for traffic going in the same direction.

Those one-way "slots" about a mile in length will assure drivers of a safe merger into traffic as he enters the dual-dual sections, Noble explained.

"All of the new freeways will be built with not less than four lanes," Noble said, "and will include at least the now-familiar center median strip. Some sections will be constructed with an initial five or even six lanes, but all sections containing more than six traffic lanes (three in each direction) will be dual-dual up to the envisioned maximum of 12 lanes.

"The median strips, themselves, are going to have a new look too; they will be wider. . . .

"The motorist is safest if he has a median strip approximately 50 feet wide without any physical obstructions in it and with a depression which is neither steep enough or deep enough to cause him to turn over or lose control of his car in the event he is forced into the median.

"As long as we enable the driver to keep his car on its wheels and keep control of it, he has an excellent chance of getting back out of the median strip unhurt, and with his car undamaged. . . .

"If we give him a median strip 50 or more feet wide . . . there is almost no chance of his hurtling across the median into on-coming traffic lanes."

Noble said many medians for Ohio's new freeways will be more than 50 feet wide, where feasible. He said enough right-of-way is pike engineer, was brought to Ohio to direct Gov. C. William O'Neill's highway construction program.

Another feature of the dual-dual highways will be "slots" slanting across the extra median strips so that motorists can move from outside lanes for slower vehicles into faster inside lanes for traffic going in the same direction.

Those one-way "slots" about a mile in length will assure drivers of a safe merger into traffic as he enters the dual-dual sections, Noble explained.

"All of the new freeways will be built with not less than four lanes," Noble said, "and will include at least the now-familiar center median strip. Some sections will be constructed with an initial five or even six lanes, but all sections containing more than six traffic lanes (three in each direction) will be dual-dual up to the envisioned maximum of 12 lanes.

"The median strips, themselves, are going to have a new look too; they will be wider. . . .

"The motorist is safest if he has a median strip approximately 50 feet wide without any physical obstructions in it and with a depression which is neither steep enough or deep enough to cause him to turn over or lose control of his car in the event he is forced into the median.

"As long as we enable the driver to keep his car on its wheels and keep control of it, he has an excellent chance of getting back out of the median strip unhurt, and with his car undamaged. . . .

"If we give him a median strip 50 or more feet wide . . . there is almost no chance of his hurtling across the median into on-coming traffic lanes."

Noble said many medians for Ohio's new freeways will be more than 50 feet wide, where feasible. He said enough right-of-way is

Furore over American-English Agreement

According to publicity accounts from England that country is in a more or less state of political frenzy because its McMillan government has indicated a decision to rely on American atomic military power to shield it against any coming attack.

Reports also indicate that the English government's plan to cut its defense setup by almost half is bringing howls especially because of the Bermuda report of agreement between President Eisenhower and McMillan for America to furnish England with atomic weapons and ordinance in the event of war.

The proud English people seem to feel that this places their country in the position of being a subordinate in the matter of a war partnership.

There is some indication that Great Britain will be abdicating still larger areas of military power — mostly to the United States but also to the Commonwealth nations as well.

Yet if the new course inspires little enthusiasm in Britain — or America either, where most of the burden will have to be shouldered — it seems realistic.

By reason of size and location, not the capacities of its people, Britain is incapable of becoming an "atomic power" in the military sense. No nation which could be almost totally wiped out by a single nuclear blitz could ever be an atomic power because it lacks the faculty of reprisal.

The United States and the Soviet Union have reached a kind of stalemate; neither could launch an atomic blow at the other without causing a counter-blow at least as devastating. On the other hand an attack which might stun but could not seriously cripple America or Russia would probably annihilate Britain — at least as a military entity.

It would appear sensible and courageous of Mr. Macmillan to accept this uncomfortable fact of the Atomic Age. And it is not without hopeful implications.

Britain, well behind the United States in nuclear warfare, is ahead in peaceful applications of nuclear energy. If Prime Minister Macmillan's country were to develop still more rapidly as a "laboratory" for creative atomic projects, it could play a part quite as vital to our mutual wellbeing as that of the American atomic arsenal. There would then be no question of a minor partnership.

Sweet Tunes on Cash Register

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (U)—How would you like to fly around the earth and attend the top shows in all the world's entertainment capitals?

"We're planning such a tour right now for some time after Christmas," said Betty Murray, one of Broadway's most unusual idea girls.

Miss Murray, known as "The Show Plane Lady," is perhaps the most stagestruck woman in America. She was a varsity player on the clavichord and the oboe in college, but now she plays all her concerts on an even more lovable instrument — the cash register.

"My mother was a singer and my father was a comedian," she said, "and I yearned to do high idealistic things in the theater myself. But I found my real talent was as a promoter."

Betty came to Broadway with a handful of dreams back in 1947. She took the first job she could find — as a switchboard jockey and utility typist for a local radio station. Then she began promoting trade shows.

In 1954 the tall, slender blue-eyed girl, caught the attention of Herman Shumlin, producer of "Inherit The Wind." He made her a production assistant.

Shortly thereafter she heard a group of producers griping about the summer lull along Broadway. She reasoned that the hinterland must be full of people who'd like to fly to a weekend in New York and fill all those empty seats.

"But many people hate to come here by themselves," she said. "They also hate to make hotel and theater reservations. Why couldn't I set up a simple package deal to take care of them?"

She did. She found the woods were full of folks thrilled to find out that for $37.50 plus plane fare they could stay at a hotel in Manhattan, dine at Sardi's, meet theatrical celebrities at a cocktail party and attend two Broadway plays.

Since then Betty, as founder and president of the American Theater Institute, has ferried 25,000 playgoers here by plane and bus from all parts of America, Cuba and Canada.

The idea has become a multi-million-dollar enterprise. Betty has had no difficulty getting famous Broadway producers and actors to attend her cocktail parties.

Next month Betty will shepherd a group of 71 theater lovers on her first "International Show Plane" trip to Europe. They will attend performances in England, Paris, and Rome, meet Sir Laurence Olivier, Ingrid Bergman and Mario Lanza—and play a bit of roulette at Monte Carlo.

The round-the-world trip will follow at the end of the year.

John Bull and Uncle Sam

By George Sokolsky

No one resembles the stereotype, John Bull, more closely than Winston Churchill but he is half American on his mother's side.

The present prime minister, Harold Macmillan, also had an American mother and although he does not fit the stereotype of John Bull, he does look like an Englishman who might sit near a club window and, discuss the waywardness of his generation.

Perhaps the most pugnacious British minister who has been in these parts in recent years. Lord Hailsham, minister of education in the Macmillan cabinet and first lord of the admiralty in the Anthony Eden cabinet, also had an American mother, who hailed from Nashville, Tenn.

The question often arises in my mind as to how much American mothers impart of American ways to their sons with whom we have to deal on the other side of the table.

Why is it so difficult for Europeans of whatever country to understand the nature of our constitutional government which places limitations on the federal government? Why do they not realize that despite all the efforts to abolish states rights, the federal government is not a national government but the common organ of 48 sovereign states and that sovereignty is vested in the people of the states and not in the federal government?

It is this confusion that has cost Europe so much. For instance, Woodrow Wilson could get Great Britain and France to join the League of Nations but not the United States of which he was president.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was more successful in having his way because he was generally favored by the people, but the accumulation of data indicating, however conclusively or inconclusively, that his last years produced costly errors of judgment has resulted in a revulsion from leadership which presently embarrasses the Eisenhower administration.

It would seem that Western Europeans, accustomed to the ministerial system, never quite grasp that we do not have ministers of state; that the president is the only elected official in the national administration.

With a vice president who really has nothing much to do but to wait for the president to die or to become incapacitated. All the cabinet members hold office by virtue of the president's will or even whim.

Furthermore, while the Senate only confirms appointments of officials and ratifies treaties, Congress controls appropriations and can knock down any presidential commitment by withholding funds.

In Great Britain or France that would lead to the downfall of a government but not with us.

The president's term is fixed by the Constitution and no matter how often he is voted down, he remains in office. Thus, if President Eisenhower's budget is shredded to ribbons, he will not resign and if he were to resign, not the opposition would take over, but the Vice President, Richard Nixon. There is no similar situation in any European country and somehow the dissimilarity makes too little impression upon those who deal with us.

In the nearly two centuries the United States has moved away from Great Britain, both countries have changed, so that to speak of the United States as an Anglo-Saxon country is an error in political terminology.

Canada is closer in its political institutions to Great Britain, despite the French influence, than the United States is. Parliament is a very different institution than it was when the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed. Congress was at no time a copy of the British Parliament but was differently conceived because of the difference in size and character of the American states which formed the more perfect union.

We never had a king and although in Great Britain, that institution has changed radically, we never had one at all and therefore never developed a class responsibility based on status. In fact, status counts for so little in this country that even where respect is deserved, it is rarely forthcoming and a man's standing in the community is seldom established for the right reasons.

It is important to add that we shall not be made over in the image of any other country any more than it can be expected that any other country will be made over in our image. And if that is understood, we might all get along a little better, even in our disappointments.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Parents always seem to be wondering how their child compares with the average youngster in height and weight.

I've pointed out in the past that each child is an individual case and should not be compared with the kid next door. But to satisfy those of you who insist on some sort of average figure, here are a few I think most physicians will agree upon.

Average Height

At birth, the average baby is about 20 inches in height. He gains some 10 inches during the first year so that at the age of one he is 30 inches tall.

You can determine the average height between the ages of 2 to 14 by using a simple formula — height equals 2½ times the age, plus 30. Thus, for a 10-year-old youngster, take 2½ times 10 and add 30. This gives you an average height of 55 inches, or 4 feet 7 inches.

The average weight of a baby at birth is about 7.4 pounds.

Between 3 months and one year, the weight in pounds equals the age in months plus 11. For a four-month-old baby, it would be 4 plus 11, or 15 pounds.

At 30 months, the average child weighs 30 pounds. And at 3½ years, he weighs 35 pounds.

From the age of 4 to 8 you can figure average weights by multiplying the age by 6 and adding 12.

Incidentally, at the age of about 5½, both the height and weight are approximately the same—44.4.

From 8 to 12, the weight equals 7 times the age, plus 5.

Again let me remind you that all children can't be expected to be the same height and weight at the same age. But this sure gives you an indication of the average.

Agency Asking For Less Money

WASHINGTON (U)—A federal agency made an unusual economy appeal to the Senate Monday. It asked for less money than the House voted to give it.

The Office of Education told a Senate appropriations subcommittee it wants only $3 million for grants to states for rural library service, a pet of lawmakers from small towns.

Five million dollars had been voted by the House. President Eisenhower has asked for 3 million, a 45 per cent increase over the $2,050,000 voted by Congress last year.

Senate OKs Hike In Bond Interest

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate Monday passed a bill increasing the interest ceiling on government savings bonds to 3¼ per cent.

The bill goes back to the House which passed the measure in a form permitting a 3½ per cent ceiling. President Eisenhower originally asked for a 4½ per cent limit on the series E and H bonds.

You can determine the average height between the ages of 2 to 14 by using a simple formula — height equals 2½ times the age, plus 30. Thus, for a 10-year-old youngster, take 2½ times 10 and add 30. This gives you an average height of 55 inches, or 4 feet 7 inches.

The average weight of a baby at birth is about 7.4 pounds.

Between 3 months and one year, the weight in pounds equals the age in months plus 11. For a four-month-old baby, it would be 4 plus 11, or 15 pounds.

At 30 months, the average child weighs 30 pounds. And at 3½ years, he weighs 35 pounds.

From the age of 4 to 8 you can figure average weights by multiplying the age by 6 and adding 12.

Incidentally, at the age of about 5½, both the height and weight are approximately the same—44.4.

From 8 to 12, the weight equals 7 times the age, plus 5.

Again let me remind you that all children can't be expected to be the same height and weight at the same age. But this sure give you an indication of the average.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

W. L.: What would cause a sensation of numbness in the hands?

Answer: Numbness in the hands may be due to a number of different conditions: poor circulation, disturbance in the blood vessels in the hands—as in Raynaud's disease—disturbance in the nerves supplying the affected parts.

Agency Asking For Less Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal agency made an unusual economy appeal to the Senate Monday. It asked for less money than the House voted to give it.

The Office of Education told a Senate appropriations subcommittee it wants only $3 million for grants to states for rural library service, a pet of lawmakers from small towns.

Five million dollars had been voted by the House.

President Eisenhower has asked for 3 million, a 45 per cent increase over the $2,050,000 voted by Congress last year.

The bell of the Flatbush Reformed Church in New York City — hung in 1796 — has tolled for the funeral of every United States President.

Senate OKs Hike In Bond Interest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Monday passed a bill increasing the interest ceiling on government savings bonds to 3¼ per cent.

The bill goes back to the House which passed the measure in a form permitting a 3½ per cent ceiling. President Eisenhower originally asked for a 4½ per cent limit on the series E and H bonds.

How Texas Eastern helps put the "whirl" in a whirlbird

Metal helicopter parts—bearings, blades, detail parts—undergo terrific strains in flight. So they must be heat-treated with great exactness to make sure they are properly stress relieved, hardened and tempered.

Vertol Aircraft Corporation, maker of "whirlbirds" for Army, Air Force and Navy, uses gas-fired furnaces for these important heat-treating operations and for cleaning and plating, too. Gas is ideal for all these jobs because it is dependable, fast and can be easily and accurately controlled.

To make gas abundantly available in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern areas, Texas Eastern transports natural gas from the Southwest through its 5700-mile pipeline system.

Small Chapel Marks Place Where Christ Was Baptized

EDITOR'S Note: By American definition, the River Jordan is no river at all—in most parts of this country it would be called a creek. Yet in the Jordan's muddy water occurred one of the major events of Christ's life, His baptism by John. Here's a report on how the baptismal site looks today.

By WILTON WYNN

JERICHO, Jordan (AP)—Water is exported to the ends of the earth from a muddy creek near here where John baptized Christ.

Venders display small flasks of the water for sale to visitors on the banks of the stream. Regularly huge shipments for use in baptisms go by air and sea to the United States, Europe, and the Far East.

The water comes from the point on the Jordan River known as the site of the sacred baptism—which occurred at the start of Christ's three years of public life and teaching.

The site is close to the lowest place on the face of the earth. Within sight is the Dead Sea, 1,000 feet below sea level.

Jesus probably came to this spot through the Jordan Valley from Galilee in the north. The modern traveler visits the area from Jerusalem. This means he drives in half an hour from Jerusalem's elevation 2,000 feet above sea level to the Jordan at 1,000 feet below.

The road branches off after leaving Jericho and takes the traveler across a flat desert plain, ending at the banks of the Jordan. In winter this low area is comfortably warm; in summer it is suffocatingly hot.

The baptismal site is away from villages or other normal human habitation. Nearby is the Convent of St. John the Baptist, first built 1,500 years ago. On the bank of the river stands a Franciscan chapel and a small altar. A stone staircase leads to the water, and nearby two or three vendors sit quietly beside their flasks of water waiting for visiting pilgrims.

Surrounding this point is the "wilderness" where John the Baptist did most of his preaching. The Biblical term "wilderness" must have referred to desert, unless the Jordan Valley has changed drastically since Biblical times. The Jordan plain is green only in the few places where irrigation has permitted cultivation, or where occasional streams water the parched earth.

Apart from these verdant spots, the valley is the domain of jackals, hyenas, and wild pigs roaming over rocky soil among desert shrubs. Rising on either side of the Jordan plain are the semi-desert hills of Judea to the west and Moab to the east.

Although the Jordan is one of the world's most famous rivers, its small size is a disappointment to most visitors. A stream so narrow in America would be called a creek.

Every Jan. 6 the anniversary of Christ's baptism is observed in a special service on the water. Bearded priests in their vestments stand in a flat-bottomed boat to say mass over the exact spot where they believe Christ was baptized. In the early centuries of the Christian era the site was marked by a cross standing in the river bed.

Although followers of Christ adopted baptism as a ritual for admission to the faith, the baptism by John also has been interpreted as a cleansing ritual. For centuries afterward Christians who already had been baptized would visit the site of the sacred baptism for ceremonial washing. On the eve of the Epiphany, thousands

Ex-GIs Getting Biggest Share

$25 Million in Ohio Goes to War Vets

WASHINGTON (AP)—What group gets the biggest share of federal money handed out in Ohio?

It is the ex-GIs, a Senate committee spokesman reported today. Together, they got 25 million dollars in Ohio in the last fiscal year, from their benefits under the GI bill.

The second largest group was the Ohio National Guard, Air and Ground. The Ohio Guard received $11,600,000.

Ohio farmers ran third receiving five million dollars in grants for conservation and another $660,000 in sugar beet subsidies.

The figures are on file with the Senate Committee on Reduction of non-essential federal expenditures, headed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.). But while the younger men who fought in World War II and Korea enjoy college educations at federal expense, there is a group of Ohioans who think they have been largely passed up—the World War I veterans.

One of those veterans, Frank J. Shurtz of Zanesville, Ohio, wrote a letter to Rep. Henderson (R-Ohio) the other day, wanting to know when Congress was going to supply an "adequate" World War I pension.

The World War I man, Shurtz wrote, "marched away to fight and die for a cause he thought was right. Some never returned, but sleep eternally in Flanders Field.

"It is now nearly 40 years since this same boy marched away... now he is asking for an adequate pension to help sustain him in the remaining twilight years of his life.

"The veterans of more recent wars have received much under the GI Bill and its related benefits. The years have taken their toll of many first World War veterans, so it is only right and fitting for those remaining that they should receive a pension after waiting for so many years."

Pair Admits Guilt In Vote Fraud

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Guilty pleas ended the vote fraud trial of Mrs. Ida Mae Falletti and John Sagula, 31, Monday before it got started.

The two Democratic precinct workers will be sentenced on misdemeanor charges growing out of last November's election. Mrs. Falletti was accused originally of putting "X" marks on some ballots and Sagula with interfering with an election.

The trial would have been the second for Mrs. Falletti. In February her trial ended in a hung jury.

For centuries afterward Christians who already had been baptized would visit the site of the sacred baptism for ceremonial washing. On the eve of the Epiphany, thousands used to collect on the river banks, wrapped in white garments, and bathe in the waters. Lepers and other afflicted persons washed in the river to be cured.

Modern economic planning may affect the site of the sacred baptism in the next few years. A vast irrigation scheme for the Jordan Valley calls for diverting the waters of the Jordan's main tributary, the Yarmuk, into irrigation canals. This probably will lower the level of the narrow Jordan below the baptismal site.

Religious leaders here have tried to remind world opinion that this scheme, important as it is economically, may destroy one of Christendom's most sacred sites by leaving the place of Christ's baptism a dry spot on the bank.

New Officers Installed at VFW Meeting

The Burnett-Ducey Auxiliary of V. F. W. met at Memorial Hall last evening with a covered dish supper preceding the business meeting. Members of the Post were guests also Mrs. Vivian Payton, Mrs. Olive Phillips, Mrs. Mildred Carter, Mrs. Gertrude Fogarty, Mrs. Dorothy Bates and Mrs. Mattie Alexander from the Columbus Chapter. As the guests arrived they were presented with a corsage.

The president, Mrs. Kenneth Curl, called the meeting to order at 8 p. m. Mrs. Richard Steen gave the secretary report and Mrs. Allen Sells gave the treasurer report and they were both approved as read.

Mrs. Steen read a thank you note from Brother Kennedy of the South Side Church of Christ for the flag they had recently received from the Auxiliary. President Curl appointed Mrs. Walter Donohoe as poppy chairman, which will be May 18th.

The president then introduced Mrs. Olive Payton who was the installing officer for the new officers of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Vivian Payton was the conductress. The new officers are as follows: Mrs. Dale Merritt, president; Mrs. Ralph Barger, senior vice president; Mrs. Lena Kinnison, junior vice president; Mrs. Walter Donohoe, secretary; Mrs. Allen Sells, treasurer; Mrs. Betsy Fisher, conductress; Mrs. Leo Cox, chaplain; Mrs. George Hooks, guard; Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mrs. Jess Whitmer, Mrs. Kenneth Curl and Mrs. Edward Hidy, color bearers; Mrs. Jess Whitmer, trustee for two years; Mrs. Edward Hidy, trustee for three years.

After the officers were installed Mrs. Phillips turned the meeting over to the new president, Mrs. Merritt. The meeting was then adjourned according to the ritual.

Flower Show School To Be Held Here

The Garden Clubs of Highland County will be hostesses to District 16, Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs, in the Presbyterian Church on Friday, May 3. It is to be a preliminary flower show school with an instructor on horticulture in the morning and another one on arrangements in the afternoon. Registration will be at 9:30 a. m. The ladies of the church will serve lunch. Reservations for the lunch to be made with Mrs. K. K. Burriss, 216 N. Washington St., Greenfield, not later than Tuesday, April 30.

In addition to the instructions an interesting program has been arranged, also display of plant material, specimens of garden flowers, and arrangements. This might be of special interest to those doing arrangements for churches, dining rooms, special occasions or for pleasure of individuals, and especially to those who plan to stage, enter, or visit flower shows. The public is invited to attend, in addition to Garden Club members.

City Teachers Elects Slate Of Officers

The City Teachers Assn. held its final meeting of the year in the Washington High School auditorium Monday afternoon.

Miss Helen Skaggs, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Max Dice who told of the part Fayette County played in the early history of Ohio and the nation.

At the conclusion of the program, Stanley Johnson, president of the association, conducted a short business meeting.

Miss Ruth Stecher, chairman of the nominating committee, presented and the members accepted the following slate of officers for the coming school year:

President, Earl Miller; first vice president, Mrs. Edith Parsley; second vice president, Mrs. Dorothy Everhart; secretary, Mrs. Versa Angus; treasurer, Fred Cluff.

MEMBERS agreed that another scholarship of $250 be presented this year to some member of the senior class who is planning to become a teacher. Proceeds from the presentation of the film, "Oberammergau's Passion Play," have been set aside for financing the scholarship.

Awarding of the scholarship was referred to a committee composed of Miss Marjorie Evans, Miss Jane Trent and Jack White.

It was also decided to send a delegate to the centennial convention of the National Education Assn. to be held in Philadelphia in July.

The matter of choosing the delegate was referred to the incoming executive committee.

Roush Class Officer At Tri-State College

Wendell R. Roush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Damon Deiber, 1009 Briar Ave., has been elected secretary of the junior class at Tri-State College, Angola, Ind.

Roush, listed on the scholastic honor roll, is a member of Beta Sigma Tau, national non-sectarian, inter-cultural fraternity at Tri-State. He is a student in the department of commerce, majoring in business administration.

Song Fest at Samantha

SAMANTHA - A song fest will be held Sunday at the Samantha Baptist Church, beginning at 2 p. m. Singers from many parts of the country will take part, and the public is invited.

'Landscaping' Is Chapter's Program Theme

Mrs. James DeWeese welcomed members of the Xi Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi to her home last evening for their regular meeting. Mrs. Bill Williams and Mrs. John Richards were special guests.

The meeting was opened according to the ritual by the president, Mrs. Ray Jennings. The regular reports were given and approved.

An audit committee, composed of Mrs. Ruth Glass, Mrs. Charles Pfersick and Mrs. George Kuhlwein, was appointed. Delegates to the State Convention to be held in Toledo on May 24th to 26th are Mrs. Robert Olinger and Mrs. Charles Pfersick.

Mrs. Olinger introduced Mrs. Gladys Keller, who presented a most interesting and informative program concerning landscaping. Mrs. Keller told how to plan your shrubbery, trees and bulbs in order to have bloom or berries the year around.

She explained how to grow lovely shrubs from cuttings of certain types, what varieties would grow in sun or shade and which needed the most protection. Mrs. Keller also stressed the fact that care and patience were needed in successful gardening.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Robert Allen, Mrs. Edward Sexton, Mrs. Olinger, Mrs. Floyd West and Mrs. Jennings in serving a tempting dessert course.

Evening Ceremony Unites Couple

Miss Ruth Evelyn Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Edwards, 111 Water St., became the bride of Mr. Beryl Raypole, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Raypole of Bloomington on April 12th.

The double ring ceremony took place at 7 p. m. in the parsonage of the First Christian Church with the Rev. Don McMillin officiating. The bride was wearing a dress in navy blue and white accessories, a corsage of white roses was pinned at her shoulder and she carried a white Bible.

Miss Carolyn Leeth, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor, and she wore a pink dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was white rose buds. A friend of the groom, Mr. Larry Bacon, was best man.

The wedding was attended by the immediate family and following the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon trip through the southern states.

The new Mrs. Raypole is a graduate of Washington High School in the Class of 1956 and is now employed with Universal C. I. T. in Columbus. Mr. Raypole is associated sang the hymn "Face to Face." Mrs. Naomi Helm, class teacher, closed the devotions with prayer.

Preceding the business meeting, in charge of the class president, Mrs. Robert Strong, Mrs. Helm conducted the study of Dinah and a review of previous lessons studied from the book, "All the Women of the Bible."

Various reports were read and final plans for the Sunrise Service which will be presented by the class Easter Sunday morning at 6 a. m. were made. Mrs. Carl Meriweather is chairman.

During the social hour the hostess served a tempting dessert course, assisted by her mother, Mrs. James R. Williams.

New Officers
Installed at VFW Meeting

The Burnett-Ducey Auxiliary of V. F. W. met at Memorial Hall last evening with a covered dish supper preceding the business meeting. Members of the Post were guests also Mrs. Vivian Payton, Mrs. Olive Phillips, Mrs. Mildred Carter, Mrs. Gertie Fogarty, Mrs. Dorothy Bates and Mrs. Mattie Alexander from the Columbus Chapter. As the guests arrived they were presented with a corsage.

The president, Mrs. Kenneth Curl, called the meeting to order at 8 p. m. Mrs. Richard Steen gave the secretary report and Mrs. Allen Sells gave the treasurer report and they were both approved as read.

Mrs. Steen read a thank you note from Brother Kennedy of the South Side Church of Christ for the flag they had recently received from the Auxiliary. President Curl appointed Mrs. Walter Donohoe as poppy chairman, which will be May 18th.

The president then introduced Mrs. Olive Payton who was the installing officer for the new officers of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Vivian Payton was the conductress. The new officers are as follows: Mrs. Dale Merritt, president; Mrs. Ralph Barger, senior vice president; Mrs. Lena Kinnison, junior vice president; Mrs. Walter Donohoe, secretary; Mrs. Allen Sells, treasurer; Mrs. Betsy Fisher, conductress; Mrs. Leo Cox, chaplain; Mrs. George Hooks, guard; Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mrs. Jess Whitmer, Mrs. Kenneth Curl and Mrs. Edward Hidy, color bearers; Mrs. Jess Whitmer, trustee for two years; Mrs. Edward Hidy, trustee for three years.

After the officers were installed Mrs. Phillips turned the meeting over to the new president, Mrs. Merritt. The meeting was then adjourned according to the ritual.

Flower Show School
To Be Held Here

The Garden Clubs of Highland County will be hostesses to District 16, Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs, in the Presbyterian Church on Friday, May 3. It is to be a preliminary flower show school with an instructor on horticulture in the morning and another one on arrangements in the afternoon. Registration will be at 9:30 a. m. The ladies of the church will serve lunch. Reservations for the lunch to be made with Mrs. K. K. Burris, 216 N. Washington St., Greenfield, not later than Tuesday, April 30.

In addition to the instructions an interesting program has been arranged, also display of plant material, specimens of garden flowers, and arrangements. This might be of special interest to those doing arrangements for churches, dining rooms, special occasions or for pleasure of individuals, and especially to those who plan to stage, enter, or visit flower shows. Ohio Legislative Schedule Being Fouled Up by Baseball

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some Ohio lawmakers will stay at their posts today, but most of them will be listening for the thrilling phrase:

"Play ball!" Major league baseball is making a shambles of the 15th legislative week which started Monday night.

Only 19 of 34 members — one more than a constitutional majority — were present in the Senate Monday night. Only 93, slightly under two-thirds, of the House membership was on hand.

Today, because of the baseball opener in Cincinnati and Cleveland, fewer than a majority of the Senate are expected to answer rollcall. It is possible a quorum may be present in the House.

Wednesday is expected to be a full-fledged legislative day, but Thursday, traditionally, will see only a halfhearted session.

A fair-sized group of Capitol newsmen accompanied Gov. C. William O'Neill to the Cincinnati opener today. The party was scheduled to be the guests tonight of the Cincinnati delegation to the Legislature.

After this "lost" week, probably only five more remain in this regular session of the 102nd General Assembly, legislative leaders estimate.

In Monday night's bob-tailed sessions, the most important action was the signing — in both houses — of an emergency bill cutting back the salaries of most of O'Neill's Cabinet members.

It was expected O'Neill would sign the salary cut-back bill sometime today — possibly before his airplane trip to Cincinnati, where he was scheduled to throw out the first ball.

The bill — effective immediately upon the governor's signature — will reduce the salaries of most Cabinet officials $6,000 a year. Most of those making $18,000 will be cut back to $12,000 and those making $16,000 will be reduced to $10,000.

O'Neill asked — and got — quick approval last January of a bill increasing the salaries to their present ent levels. Then, in a surprise move two weeks ago, he asked that they be cut back to their old levels.

He said he had found that the amount of salary was "not always the controlling factor" when an individual decides whether to accept a Cabinet post. Under the circumstances, he told the Legislature, it would be better, in the interests of economy, to cut the salaries back to their original levels.

The Legislature reluctantly agreed to the "turnabout" policy and the House completed legislative action on the bill last week.

Among the victims of Monday night's absenteeism in the Legislature was a bill by Sen. Robert K. Shaw (R-Franklin) to rid the Capitol grounds of pigeons. Forewarned that Senate Democrats planned to have a "field day" of humor over the bill — and in view of the fact that two negative votes among the 19 senators present could kill it — Shaw succeeded in delaying the vote until another day.

The Senate passed, 19-0, a bill to clarify the law on voting residence of a student attending an away-from-home college or university.

The bill, which now goes to the House, says a student and his spouse must vote in the community in which they lived before enrollment in the institution of higher learning unless the student has established a permanent residence elsewhere.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Require county treasurers to mail second tax notices to those who pay taxes on the installment plan.

Require a $5 fee for examinations for insurance agents.

Authorize the adjutant general to microfilm certificates of discharge and separation.

Increase the top pay of appellate court shorthand reporters from $3,000 to $6,000 a year.

Coming up Wednesday: A House floor vote on a Senate-approved bill to fix the salary of the state superintendent of public instruction at $25,000 a year.

When this bill becomes law, the path will be cleared for E. E. Holt, Springfield school superintendent, to become state superintendent. He has agreed, informally, to accept the state post, pending legislative approval of a definite salary for the position.

Birds are able to sleep on a swaying twig because their toe grip automatically locks.

Ancient Bingo Dispute Boils Still Higher

misdemeanor to possess any "ticket" to be used in a lottery. The Columbus ordinance involved in the decision makes no exceptions for charity gambling.

The court held the anti-bingo ordinance is not in conflict with the state law which fails to set a penalty for the operation of a game which gives its profits to charity.

Just where does all that leave us? The Ohio Supreme Court holds that all gambling is illegal, that in the face of the constitution, the Legislature does not have the right to legalize it for charity or any other purpose.

There have been several proposals in recent years for constitutional amendments to lift the gambling prohibition enough to permit charity bingo. But the Legislature never has acted to put any of them on the ballot.

Now, what about enforcement? Cities and villages with anti-bingo ordinances have no particular problem. It is their court-approved right to legislate against gambling in any form and it is their duty to enforce their local laws.

But in rural areas, there is no law except the state law. Counties are not permitted to pass their own laws. When a sheriff tries to stop a for-charity bingo game in his bailiwick, there is no charge he can bring against the operators. The game may be illegal, but there is no penalty.

Police chiefs in municipalities which lack anti-bingo ordinances find themselves in the same boat with sheriffs and their deputies.

The state, itself, is practically powerless. Gov. O'Neill points out: "There is no police authority in Ohio between the sheriffs and chiefs of police and the national guard."

Obviously, O'Neill is not going to call out the national guard to break up a charitable bingo game. Similarly, Atty. Gen. Saxbe has no police powers. There is a state law which permits the attorney general to go to court and seek a padlock order against gambling establishments as "common nuisances," but Saxbe makes no bones about it: "I'm not about to try to padlock a church."

Ohio Legislative Schedule Being Fouled Up by Baseball

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some Ohio lawmakers will stay at their posts today, but most of them will be listening for the thrilling phrase: "Play ball!"

Major league baseball is making a shambles of the 15th legislative week which started Monday night.

Only 19 of 34 members — one more than a constitutional majority — were present in the Senate Monday night. Only 93, slightly under two-thirds, of the House membership was on hand.

Today, because of the baseball opener in Cincinnati and Cleveland, fewer than a majority of the Senate are expected to answer rollcall. It is possible a quorum may be present in the House.

Wednesday is expected to be a full-fledged legislative day, but Thursday, traditionally, will see only a halfhearted session.

A fair-sized group of Capitol newsmen accompanied Gov. C. William O'Neill to the Cincinnati opener today. The party was scheduled to be the guests tonight of the Cincinnati delegation to the Legislature.

After this "lost" week, probably only five more remain in this regular session of the 102nd General Assembly, legislative leaders estimate.

In Monday night's bob-tailed sessions, the most important action was the signing — in both houses — of an emergency bill cutting back the salaries of most of O'Neill's Cabinet members.

It was expected O'Neill would sign the salary cut-back bill sometime today — possibly before his airplane trip to Cincinnati, where he was scheduled to throw out the first ball.

The bill — effective immediately upon the governor's signature — will reduce the salaries of most Cabinet officials $6,000 a year. Most of those making $18,000 will be cut back to $12,000 and those making $16,000 will be reduced to $10,000.

O'Neill asked — and got — quick approval last January of a bill increasing the salaries to their present levels. Then, in a surprise move two weeks ago, he asked that they be cut back to their old levels.

He said he had found that the amount of salary was "not always the controlling factor" when an individual decides whether to accept a Cabinet post. Under the circumstances, he told the Legislature, it would be better, in the interests of economy, to cut the salaries back to their original levels.

The Legislature reluctantly agreed to the "turnabout" policy and the House completed legislative action on the bill last week.

Among the victims of Monday night's absenteeism in the Legislature was a bill by Sen. Robert H. Shaw (R-Franklin) to rid the Capitol grounds of pigeons. Forewarned that Senate Democrats planned to have a "field day" of humor over the bill — and in view of the fact that two negative votes among the 19 senators present could kill it — Shaw succeeded in delaying the vote until another day.

The Senate passed, 19-0, a bill to clarify the law on voting residence of a student attending an away-from-home college or university.

The bill, which now goes to the House, says a student and his spouse must vote in the community in which they lived before enrollment in the institution of higher learning unless the student has established a permanent residence elsewhere.

The House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

- Require county treasurers to mail second tax notices to those who pay taxes on the installment plan.
- Require a $5 fee for examinations for insurance agents.
- Authorize the adjutant general to microfilm certificates of discharge and separation.
- Increase the top pay of appellate court shorthand reporters from $3,000 to $6,000 a year.

Coming up Wednesday: A House floor vote on a Senate-approved bill to fix the salary of the state superintendent of public instruction at $25,000 a year.

When this bill becomes law, the path will be cleared for E. E. Holt, Springfield school superintendent, to become state superintendent. He has agreed, informally, to accept the state post, pending legislative approval of a definite salary for the position.

Ancient Bingo Dispute Boils Still Higher

misdeamnor to possess any "ticket... to be used... in a lottery." The Columbus ordinance involved in the decision makes no exceptions for charity gambling.

The court held the anti-bingo ordinance is not in conflict with the state law which fails to set a penalty for the operation of a game which gives its profits to charity.

Just where does all that leave us? The Ohio Supreme Court holds that all gambling is illegal, that in the face of the constitution, the Legislature does not have the right to legalize it for charity or any other purpose.

There have been several proposals in recent years for constitutional amendments to lift the gambling prohibition enough to permit charity bingo. But the Legislature never has acted to put any of them on the ballot.

Now, what about enforcement? Cities and villages with anti-bingo ordinances have no particular problem. It is their court-approved right to legislate against gambling in any form and it is their duty to enforce their local laws.

But in rural areas, there is no law except the state law. Counties are not permitted to pass their own laws. When a sheriff tries to stop a for-charity bingo game in his bailiwick, there is no charge he can bring against the operators. The game may be illegal, but there is no penalty.

Police chiefs in municipalities which lack anti-bingo ordinances find themselves in the same boat with sheriffs and their deputies.

The state, itself, is practically powerless. Gov. O'Neill points out: "There is no police authority in Ohio between the sheriffs and chiefs of police and the national guard."

Obviously, O'Neill is not going to call out the national guard to break up a charitable bingo game. Similarly, Atty. Gen. Saxbe has no police powers. There is a state law which permits the attorney general to go to court and seek a padlock order against gambling establishments as "common nuisances," but Saxbe makes no bones about it: "I'm not about to try to padlock a church."

Efforts to strengthen the admittedly questionable pitching staff resulted only in the acquisition of Warren Hacker from the Cubs and relief hurler Raul Sanchez from the minors. Johnny Klippstein, who had a 12-11 record with the Reds last year, was to pitch the opener against the Cards' Herman Wehmeier, a former Red-

Herb Score All Set for Tribe Opener

CLEVELAND (P)—Herb Score, the million dollar baby of the Cleveland Indians, was ready to get on the mound in Municipal Stadium here today as the Tribe opposed the Chicago White Sox in the season opener.

The Indians, sporting a new left fielder named Roger Maris and a new manager named Kerby Farrell, are hoping they can do what they haven't done since 1954—catch the New York Yankees.

A perennial runnerup to the Yankees, the Indians hope Farrell's hurry-up game on the base paths and accent on hustle will give them the extra zip needed to make it to the top of the league and stay there.

Across the diamond from Farrell in the Chicago White Sox dugout today was Al Lopez, who managed the Indians to their 1954 pennant, and who hopes to do the same thing for the White Sox.

The weatherman promised temperatures in the middle 50s for the crowd of 30,000, with scattered showers throughout the afternoon.

The lineup announced by Farrell was: Al Smith, cf; Bob Avila, 3b; Vic Wertz, 1b; Rocky Colavito, rf; Roger Maris, lf; Chico Carrasquel, ss; Jim Hegan, c; George Strickland, 2b; and Score, p.

That's an ailment that affects a lot of baseball fans in a lot of towns in April. Usually it quickly subsides once the season gets under way, but unless the Cincinnati Redlegs fall flat on their faces at start of the 1957 National League season, it looks as if the ailment might continue for quite a spell in this rabid baseball city.

The reason, of course, that the "fever" may last longer than usual here is that a lot of experts have been picked by a lot of experts to win the pennant. The team, however, was a solid consensus choice of sports writers in The Associated Press poll to finish third.

They surprised everyone by winding up third last year, only two games out of first.

Opposing them in the opener today was St. Louis, generally called the most improved team in the league.

Aside from the extra excitement over the Redleg chances, it was a typical opening day.

The crowd was expected to be an overflow 33,000. The schools closed early so the kids who had tickets could get to the game.

There was to be the usual pregame fanfare and, of course, the tavern keeper who doesn't have his television set tuned to the game probably will find himself sadly lacking in customers.

The Reds didn't have much luck during the off-season in trying to bolster their lineup through trades.

There was to be only one newcomer to a Cincinnati uniform in today's lineup. That is Don Hoak, acquired in a swap with the Chicago Cubs, and slated to start at third base. He was one of the top hitters in spring training.

Efforts to strengthen the admittedly questionable pitching staff resulted only in the acquisition of Warren Hacker from the Cubs and relief hurler Raul Sanchez from the minors.

Johnny Klippstein, who had a 12-11 record with the Reds last year, was to pitch the opener against the Cards' Herman Wehmeier. Wehmeier, a former Red-

Major League Play Opening On All Fronts

Yankees and Dodgers Face Task of Defending Titles Won in 1956

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The sparring over the champion New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers settled down to the serious business of defending their laurels as the 1956 major league baseball season opened on all fronts today.

Weather permitting, all 16 teams, including Baltimore and Washington, which staged a sneak preview Monday in a traditional opener in the nation's capital, were to see action. One game will be played at night, between the Dodgers and Phillies in Philadelphia.

The Orioles, who hadn't won an opener since they re-entered the American League in 1954, defeated the Senators 7-6 in 11 innings. Rookie outfielder Carl Powis drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly but the big Baltimore hero was veteran catcher Gus Triandos.

He singled in two runs in the fifth inning, shot his team ahead 6-5 with a two-run homer in the seventh, and added a double after Powis had scored Dick Williams with his game-winning fly.

Billy Loes, last of four Baltimore pitchers, was credited with the victory. The defeat was charged to Camilo Pascual, who relieved starter Bob Chakales in the eighth. Hector Brown, Baltimore's starter, was routed by a the fourth.

Another "losing pitcher" was President Eisenhower who, along with 23,872 paying customers, sat through the 3 hour and 17 minute marathon. The President lobbed two pitches toward a mass of Baltimore and Washington players in the traditional pre-game ceremonies. Don Ferrarese, Orioles pitcher, caught the first toss and Neil Chrisley, Senator outfielder, grabbed the other.

The Orioles, flushed with their success, brought their one-game winning streak to Baltimore today hoping to extend it against the Boston Red Sox before an expected crowd of 35,000. Lefthander Bill Wright (9-12) was manager Paul Richards' nomination to hurl against Tom Brewer (19-9).

A pair of 20-game winners, Billy Pierce of Chicago and Herb Score of Cleveland, were slated to hook up in what may prove the best pitching duel of the day as the Indians played host to the White Sox before an expected 35,000 in another American League opener, at Kansas City, Detroit was sending its ace, Frank Lary (21-13), against Tom Morgan (6-7). The A's were handicapped by the absence of two of their top performers, Harry Simpson and Vic Power. Simpson has a pulled tendon and Power a head injury.

The National League spotlight will be focused on Philadelphia where two of the game's outstanding pitchers, Brooklyn's Don Newcombe (27-7) and Robin Roberts (19-18) were to hook up in another of their many duels before 25,000.

The Dodgers will be minus the services of shortstop Pee Wee Reese, who suffered a back injury in Sunday's exhibition game. His place will be taken by Don Zimmer.

Milwaukee, favored to dethrone the Dodgers, were to open with the Cubs in Chicago and lead off with its ace, Warren Spahn (20-11). The 36-year-old veteran southpaw was opposed by Bob Rush (13-10). A crowd of 35,000 was expected.

A capacity crowd of 33,000 was prepared to greet Birdie Tebbetts and his homer-happy Cincinnati Redlegs as they took on the St. Louis Cardinals. Johnny Klippstein (12-11) was slated to take the mound against an old Redleg, Her-

WHS Track Team Wins Opening Meet

Wilmington Is Trowned Here Monday

Raney Foster was top man for Washington C. H. High School as the Lion tracksters turned in their first victory of the season Monday over Wilmington at Gardner Park here.

Foster brought in 16½ points as his team rolled up 75½ to swamp the Hurricane. Final Wilmington total was 42½.

Washington C. H. had 10 firsts while only four went to Wilmington. Wilmington beat out Washington C. H. on seconds, 7-6, and on thirds, 6-4.

Floods and foul weather gave neither school much chance to practice, so all times were poor, but evenly matched. Time for Tom Swaim's winning mile was only 5:21.3, but no one outdid him.

The scoring:
220 Yard Dash—Foster (Was), 24.3; Downey (Wil) and Rainer (Wil).

Mile Relay—Johnson, Thomas, Wilson and McLean (Was), 3:56.2. Shot Put—Wilson (Was), 39 feet, 2 inches; Brown (Was) and Carey (Wil).

Broad Jump—Foster (Was), 19.6; Evans (Wil) and Johnson (Was).

Pole Vault—Miller (Was), 10 feet 9 inches; Marshall (Wil) and Brown (Was).

120-yd. High Hurdles—McCune (Wil), 17 sec.; Bobbitt (Wil), and Williams (Was).

100-yd. Dash—Foster (Was), 10.6 Hunter (Was), and Downey (Wil). Mile Run—Swaim (Was), 5:21.4; Lawson (Wil), and Wilson (Was).

Half Mile Relay—Foster, Thomas, Evans and Hunter (Was), 1:42. 440-yd. Dash—Johnson (Was), 50.6; McLean (Was), and Southworth (Was).

180-yd. Low Hurdles—McCune (Wil), 23 sec.; Miller (Was), and Williams (Was) and Bobbitt (Wil), tie for third.

880-yd. Run—Swaim (Was), 2:19; Terrall (Wil), and Turner (Wil).

High Jump—Warren (Wil), 5 feet, 3 inches; Bayshore (Wil), and Southward and Johns (both Was), tied for third.

Discus—Carey (Wil), 137 feet, 5 inches; Brown (Was), and Wilson (Was).

man Wehmeier (12-11).

The Pirates, champions of the grapefruit league for the second straight spring, faced a tartar in Johnny Antonelli as they opposed the New York Giants in Pittsburgh before 36,000. Antonelli (20-13) owns a streak of eight straight triumphs over the Bucs, seven of them coming last year. Bob Friend (17-17), Pittsburgh's best, was entrusted with the task of stopping the young southpaw.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The job of coaching the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn. can be Alex Hannum's — all he has to do is say yes.

Owner Ben Kerner said Monday he offered Hannum the job and added the former University of California star would give him an answer within a week.

With the Hawks mired in the western division cellar, Hannum succeeded Dugie Martin as temporary coach on Jan. 15.

He brought the Hawks to a play-off against the Boston Celtics for the NBA championship. The Hawks dropped the seventh and deciding game Saturday in a double overtime.

Major League Play Opening On All Fronts

Yankees and Dodgers Face Task of Defending Titles Won in 1956

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The sparring over, the champion New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers settled down to the serious business of defending their laurels as the 1956 major league baseball season opened on all fronts today.

Weather permitting, all 16 teams, including Baltimore and Washington, which staged a sneak preview Monday in a traditional opener in the nation's capital, were to see action. One game will be played at night, between the Dodgers and Phillies in Philadelphia.

The Orioles, who hadn't won an opener since they re-entered the American League in 1954, defeated the Senators 7-6 in 11 innings. Rookie outfielder Carl Powis drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly but the big Baltimore hero was veteran catcher Gus Triandos.

He singled in two runs in the fifth inning, shot his team ahead 6-5 with a two-run homer in the seventh, and added a double after Powis had scored Dick Williams with his game-winning fly.

Billy Loes, last of four Baltimore pitchers, was credited with the victory. The defeat was charged to Camilo Pascual, who relieved starter Bob Chakales in the eighth. Hector Brown, Baltimore's starter, was routed by a fourth.

Another "losing pitcher" was President Eisenhower who, along with 23,872 paying customers, sat through the 3 hour and 17 minute marathon. The President lobbied two pitches toward a mass of Baltimore and Washington players in the traditional pre-game ceremonies. Don Ferrarese, Orioles pitcher, caught the first toss and Neil Chrisley, Senator outfielder, grabbed the other.

The Orioles, flushed with their success, brought their one-game winning streak to Baltimore today hoping to extend it against the Boston Red Sox before an expected crowd of 35,000. Left-hander Bill Wight (9-12) was manager. Paul Richards' nomination to hurl against Tom Brewer (19-9).

A pair of 20-game winners, Billy Pierce of Chicago and Herb Score of Cleveland, were slated to hook up in what may prove the best pitching duel of the day as the Indians played host to the White Sox before an expected 35,000. In another American League opener, at Kansas City, Detroit was sending its ace, Frank Lary (21-13), against Tom Morgan (6-7). The A's were handicapped by the absence of two of their top performers, Harry Simpson and Vic Power. Simpson has a pulled tendon and Power a head injury.

The National League spotlight will be focused on Philadelphia where two of the game's outstanding pitchers, Brooklyn's Don Newcombe (27-7) and Robin Roberts (19-18) were to hook up in another of their many duels before 25,000. The Dodgers will be minus the services of shortstop Pee Wee Reese, who suffered a back injury in Sunday's exhibition game. His place will be taken by Don Zimmer.

Milwaukee, favored to dethrone the Dodgers, were to open with the Cubs in Chicago and lead off with its ace, Warren Spahn (20-11). The 36-year-old veteran southpaw was opposed by Bob Rush (13-10). A crowd of 35,000 was expected.

A capacity crowd of 33,000 was prepared to greet Birdie Tebbetts and his homer-happy Cincinnati Redlegs as they took on the St. Louis Cardinals. Johnny Klippstein (12-11) was slated to take the mound against an old Redleg, Her-

WHS Track Team Wins Opening Meet

Wilmington Is Trowned Here Monday

Raney Foster was top man for Washington C. H. High School as the Lion tracksters turned in their first victory of the season Monday over Wilmington at Gardner Park here.

Foster brought in 16½ points as his team rolled up 75½ to swamp the Hurricane. Final Wilmington total was 42½.

Washington C. H. had 10 firsts while only four went to Wilmington. Wilmington beat out Washington C. H. on seconds, 7-6, and on thirds, 6-4.

Floods and foul weather gave neither school much chance to practice, so all times were poor, but evenly matched. Time for Tom Swaim's winning mile was only 5:21.3, but no one outdid him.

The scoring:
220 Yard Dash—Foster (Was), 24.3; Downey (Wil) and Rainer (Wil).

Mile Relay—Johnson, Thomas, Wilson and McLean (Was), 3:56.2. Shot Put—Wilson (Was), 39 feet. 2 inches; Brown (Was) and Carey (Wil).

Broad Jump—Foster (Was), 19.6; Evans (Wil) and Johnson (Was). Pole Vault—Miller (Was), 10 feet 9 inches; Marshall (Wil) and Brown (Was).

120-yd. High Hurdles—McCune (Wil), 17 sec.; Bobbitt (Wil), and Williams (Was).

100-yd. Dash—Foster (Was), 10.6; Hunter (Was), and Downey (Wil). Mile Run—Swaim (Was), 5:21.4; Lawson (Wil), and Wilson (Was).

Half Mile Relay—Foster, Thomas, Evans and Hunter (Was), 1:42. 440-yd. Dash—Johnson (Was), 50.6; McLean (Was), and Southworth (Was).

180-yd. Low Hurdles—McCune (Wil), 23 sec.; Miller (Was), and Williams (Was) and Bobbitt (Wil), tie for third.

880-yd. Run—Swaim (Was), 2:19; Terrall (Wil), and Turner (Wil).

High Jump—Warren (Wil), 5 feet, 3 inches; Bayshore (Wil), and Southward and Johns (both Was), tied for third.

Discus—Carey (Wil), 137 feet, 5 inches; Brown (Was), and Wilson (Was).

man Wehmeier (12-11). The Pirates, champions of the grapefruit league for the second straight spring, faced a tartar in Johnny Antonelli as they opposed the New York Giants in Pittsburgh before 36,000. Antonelli (20-13) owns a streak of eight straight triumphs over the Bucs, seven of them coming last year. Bob Friend (17-17), Pittsburgh's best, was entrusted with the task of stopping the young southpaw.

Pony Football Hits Snag

Plans for Pony League football here ran into an unexpected snag Monday night, when the Washington C. H. school board turned thumbs down on the use of Gardner Park on Sunday afternoons for the games.

The board's vote was unanimous and there was very little discussion. The opposition was based entirely on the use of school property on Sunday for organized play.

There was no criticism of this program of football for elementary school boys, the board offered no alternatives, although several casual suggestions were made that the games be played on Saturday or in the evenings.

The board of directors of the Pony League meets tonight at the office of Mac Dews Jr. This, one of the directors said, "undoubtedly will be one of the main topics discussed."

Five teams already have been organized.

1955 DODGE Custom Royal Lancer. This car is a '55 model but most people will think you are driving a '57 when they see you in it. It has tri-tone color combination. Top black-saddle, white & Burgundy bottom, (some folks think Burgundy is a little too flashy, if you think so we will repaint the bottom a color that suits you.) This car is equipped with signal seeker radio, (just touch the bar and you have another station-no knob winding). Power brakes - almost new white side wall tires, tinted glass, backup lites, backup steering wheel, power pack - with dual exhaust, hand brake, warning lites, day & night inside mirror - 2 outside mirrors. In fact about everything anyone would want. It has 33,000 miles, by one owner. It's yours for $2295.00

1955 CHEVROLET Bel Air 2 door Sedan. Finished in India Ivory top, twilight turquoise bottom, has radio, heater, power glide and Chevrolet's mighty powerful V-8 power plant. If you want a classy looking car, one with plenty of zip and power, this is it. It carries our famous "you must be satisfied guarantee". The price is right $1695.00

1954 BUICK Riviera 2 dr. Hardtop Coupe. Here is really a used car that is beyond description. A 1954 model, with 13,000 miles, if you don't believe it, come out and look for yourself. This car will bear out this statement. Finished in condor yellow bottom, with black top. Has radio, heater and Buick's smooth, dynaflo transmission, which just gives you one long - surge of power. This car really has the look of today, with raparound windshield and current body styling. If the former owner had used Boron I would buy it myself. Yours for many happy miles for $1795.00

1954 PLYMOUTH Savoy 4 dr. Sedan. Has radio and heater and Chrysler Corp's clutchless automatic drive, "power glide". From an economy standpoint this transmission gives almost no trouble. This car has just come out of the hospital and fully recovered. Our head mechanic has pronounced her ready for miles and miles of smiles. He has gone over her engine completely - including new rings, rod bearings, valve job. She runs as if she had just come off the line in Detroit. We kind of neglected getting this car ready to go, so we have had her over 30 days. So we are going to cut the price even tho she is a first class car. All yours for $895.00

1954 PLYMOUTH Belvedere 4 dr. Sedan 2 tone paint. Finished in San Diego Gold lower and black top with matching interior. Has radio and heater, air foam seats almost new tires and believe it or not the former owner is a lady school teacher. This car is equipped with oilflow shock absorbers, which help to make the Plymouth ride the envy of the Auto Industry, and of course there are still more Plymouth Taxi Cabs in the USA than all other makes combined - for only one reason, Economy of operation. They are really tough automobiles. If you are a discriminating buyer, if you want low cost per miles, if you want a really well kept car, you just can't beat it for $1095.00

1953 PONTIAC Chieftain Deluxe 4 dr. Sedan. Has Pontiac's famous straight 8 cyl. engine. Pontiac's straight 8 was so good that Gen'l Motors wouldn't give it up until long after all other G. M. lines had V-8's (in fact, '55 was the first year for V-8's in Pontiac's). Has dual-range hydramatic. One range for city driving, with plenty of zip and power and another range with a higher ratio which slows down your engine, yet lets you travel at the same speed; for country driving. This car has a 20 gal. gas tank, (most '57's are just now coming to this,) which is very nice on a trip. This Pontiac is finished in a real soft 2 tone green paint with Linden green lower and Spruce green upper. Has full chrome wheel covers, almost new black tires which go well with the light green lower color. The engine compartment and the trunk of this car along with the interior and the exterior are just as clean as new. almost. If you like just a little heavier car, but still want economy of operation, we would recommend this Pontiac as our best buy for $1095.00

1953 DODGE Coronet V-8, 4 dr. Sedan. This car is equipped with gyro torque drive, which will give all the take-off you will ever want. This transmission is a semi-automatic set up, in that you have Automatic drive as long as you are going forward, but you have a clutch, and a lever to reverse with. So if the car you have now is a conventional gear-shift, you have nothing new to learn to drive it. This Dodge has an 8 tube radio, seat covers that are in good condition. The finish is all one color. Beini Blue offset with almost new white side wall tires. It has tinted glass, which cuts down the glare of the sun and helps cut down the glare when you are meeting cars at night. The former owner of this car got just a little bit close to the garage doors and scratched up the fenders. We have repaired them and probably you wouldn't know the difference if we didn't tell you or maybe you would. Anyhow we are able to offer you this 1953 Dodge for only $895.00

1950 CHEVROLET Sport Coupe. Finished in a solid Windsor, blue "Metall Chrome" color. The former owner reports that the engine of this car has been "all overhauled" and it does run very good, however it has snow tires on the rear, which makes a hum on the road, and besides that there seems to be another hum in the rear end and that doesn't quite seem to belong there. If you are interested, come out, drive it and give us your opinion. If you like it, we will part with it hum and all for $295.00

1949 PLYMOUTH Club Coupe. This car is really a '48 style but carries a '49 title, which means it came out early in '49. This is real good running car with good tires. The only drawback to this car is, the body is rusted out down at the bottom as so many of the older cars are. If you want a car to go fishing or if you are real economy minded, here is a car that will serve you well. It has a new battery and never, never refuses to start. You just can't go wrong at $150.00

THIS IS JUST A SAMPLING OF THE FINE USED CARS THAT WE HAVE IN STOCK FOR YOUR INSPECTION AND TRIAL. COME OUT TODAY OR TONIGHT OR CALL TO SEE THESE CARS.

Automobiles For Sale

1955 DODGE Custom Royal Lancer. This car is a '55 model but most people will think you are driving a '57 when they see you in it. It has tri-tone color combination. Top black-saddle, white & Burgundy bottom, (some folks think Burgundy is a little too flashy, if you think so we will repaint the bottom a color that suits you.) This car is equipped with signal seeker radio, (just touch the bar and you have another station-no knob winding). Power brakes - almost new white side wall tires, tinted glass, backup lites, backup steering wheel, power pack - with dual exhaust, hand brake, warning lites, day & night inside mirror - 2 outside mirrors. In fact about everything anyone would want. It has 33,000 miles, by one owner. It's yours for $2295.00

1955 CHEVROLET Bel Air 2 door Sedan. Finished in India Ivory top, twilight turquoise bottom, has radio, heater, power glide and Chevrolet's mighty powerful V-8 power plant. If you want a classy looking car, one with plenty of zip and power, this is it. It carries our famous "you must be satisfied guarantee". The price is right $1695.00

1954 BUICK Riviera 2 dr. Hardtop Coupe. Here is really a used car that is beyond description. A 1954 model, with 13,000 miles, if you don't believe it, come out and look for yourself. This car will bear out this statement. Finished in condor yellow bottom, with black top. Has radio, heater and Buick's smooth, dynaflo transmission, which just gives you one long - surge of power. This car really has the look of today, with raparound windshield and current body styling. If the former owner had used Boron I would buy it myself. Yours for many happy miles for $1795.00

1954 PLYMOUTH Savoy 4 dr. Sedan. Has radio and heater and Chrysler Corp's clutchless automatic drive, "power glide". From an economy standpoint this transmission gives almost no trouble. This car has just come out of the hospital and fully recovered. Our head mechanic has pronounced her ready for miles and miles of smiles. He has gone over her engine completely - including new rings, rod bearings, valve job. She runs as if she had just come off the line in Detroit. We kind of neglected getting this car ready to go, so we have had her over 30 days. So we are going to cut the price even tho she is a first class car. All yours for $895.00

1954 PLYMOUTH Belvedere 4 dr. Sedan 2 tone paint. Finished in San Diego Gold lower and black top with matching interior. Has radio and heater, air foam seats almost new tires and believe it or not the former owner is a lady school teacher. This car is equipped with oilflow shock absorbers, which help to make the Plymouth ride the envy of the Auto Industry, and of course there are still more Plymouth Taxi Cabs in the USA than all other makes combined - for only one reason, Economy of operation. They are really tough automobiles. If you are a discriminating buyer, if you want low cost per miles, if you want a really well kept car, you just can't beat it for $1095.00

1953 PONTIAC Chieftain Deluxe 4 dr. Sedan. Has Pontiac's famous straight 8 cyl. engine. Pontiac's straight 8 was so good that Gen'l Motors wouldn't give it up until long after all other G. M. lines had V-8's (in fact, '55 was the first year for V-8's in Pontiac's). Has dual-range hydramatic. One range for city driving, with plenty of zip and power and another range with a higher ratio which slows down your engine, yet lets you travel at the same speed; for country driving. This car has a 20 gal. gas tank, (most '57's are just now coming to this,) which is very nice on a trip. This Pontiac is finished in a real soft 2 tone green paint with Linden green lower and Spruce green upper. Has full chrome wheel covers, almost new black tires which go well with the light green lower color. The engine compartment and the trunk of this car along with the interior and the exterior are just as clean as new. almost. If you like just a little heavier car, but still want economy of operation, we would recommend this Pontiac as our best buy for $1095.00

1953 DODGE Coronet V-8, 4 dr. Sedan. This car is equipped with gyro torque drive, which will give all the take-off you will ever want. This transmission is a semi-automatic set up, in that you have Automatic drive as long as you are going forward, but you have a clutch, and a lever to reverse with. So if the car you have now is a conventional gear-shift, you have nothing new to learn to drive it. This Dodge has an 8 tube radio, seat covers that are in good condition. The finish is all one color. Beini Blue offset with almost new white side wall tires. It has tinted glass, which cuts down the glare of the sun and helps cut down the glare when you are meeting cars at night. The former owner of this car got just a little bit close to the garage doors and scratched up the fenders. We have repaired them and probably you wouldn't know the difference if we didn't tell you or maybe you would. Anyhow we are able to offer you this 1953 Dodge for only $895.00

1950 CHEVROLET Sport Coupe. Finished in a solid Windsor, blue "Metall Chrome" color. The former owner reports that the engine of this car has been "all overhauled" and it does run very good, however it has snow tires on the rear, which makes a hum on the road, and besides that there seems to be another hum in the rear end and that doesn't quite seem to belong there. Has radio and heater, air foam seats almost new tires and believe it or not the former owner is a lady school teacher. This car is equipped with oilflow shock absorbers, which help to make the Plymouth ride the envy of the Auto Industry, and of course there are still more Plymouth Taxi Cabs in the USA than all other makes combined - for only one reason, Economy of operation. They are really tough automobiles. If you are a discriminating buyer, if you want low cost per miles, if you want a really well kept car, you just can't beat it for $1095.00

1953 PONTIAC Chieftain Deluxe 4 dr. Sedan. Has Pontiac's famous straight 8 cyl. engine. Pontiac's straight 8 was so good that Gen'l Motors wouldn't give it up until long after all other G. M. lines had V-8's (in fact, '55 was the first year for V-8's in Pontiac's.) Has dual-range hydramatic One range for city driving, with plenty of zip and power and another range with a higher ratio which slows down your engine, yet lets you travel at the same speed; for country driving. This car has a 20 gal. gas tank. (most '57's are just now coming to this,) which is very nice on a trip. This Pontiac is finished in a real soft 2 tone green paint with Linde green lower and Sorce green upper. Has full chrome wheel covers, almost new black tires which go well with the light green lower color. The engine compartment and the trunk of this car along with the interior and the exterior are just as clean as new. almost. If you like just a little heavier car, but still want economy of operation, we would recommend this Pontiac as our best buy for $1095.00

1953 DODGE Coronet V-8, 4 dr. Sedan. This car is equipped with gyro torque drive, which will give all the take-off you will ever want. This transmission is a semi-automatic set up, in that you have Automatic drive as long as you are going forward, but you have a clutch, and a lever to reverse with. So if the car you have now is a conventional gear-shift, you have nothing new to learn to drive it. This Dodge has an 8 tube radio, seat covers that are in good condition. The finish is all one color. Beini Glass offset with almost new white side wall tires. It has tinted glass, which cuts down the glare of the sun and helps cut down the glare when you are meeting cars at night. The former owner of this car got just a little bit close to the garage doors and scratched up the fenders. We have repaired them and probably you wouldn't know the difference if we didn't tell you or maybe you would. Anyhow we are able to offer you this 1953 Dodge for only $895.00

1950 CHEVROLET Sport Coupe. Finished in a solid Windsor, blue "Metallic Chrome" color. The former owner reports that the engine of this car has been "all overhauled" and it does run very good, however it has snow tires on the rear, which makes a hum on the road, and besides that there seems to be another hum in the rear end and that doesn't quite seem to belong there. If you are interested, come out, drive it and give us your opinion. If you like it, we will part with it hum and all for $295.00

Pastors Picket Louisiana College

PINEVILLE, La. (AP)—Four Baptist ministers picketed Louisiana College Monday because actor Vincent Price, a scheduled speaker, has appeared in a national liquor advertisement. Price planned to read letters of painter Vincent Van Gogh at Louisiana College Wednesday. The ministers were joined in the protest by two students of the college, a Baptist institution. Neither Dr. Earl Guinn, president of the college, nor Dr. R. Houston Smith, president of the Louisiana Baptist Convention, which controls the school, could be reached for comment.

Innocence Claimed In Fatal Beating

CINCINNATI (AP)—William C. Branch, 27, pleaded innocent in court here Monday to a charge of first degree manslaughter in connection with the fatal beating last Feb. 10 of 77-year-old Miss Theresa Bergmann. Police have charged that Branch father of four children, beat Miss Bergmann when she resisted his efforts to criminally attack her. Defense Atty. William F. Hopkins told Judge Joseph H. Woeste that Branch has not been in any trouble since 1943 when he was involved in a burglary case. Judge Woeste fixed Branch's bond at $2,500.

News of World in Brief—

U. S. May OK Suez Use with Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is now about ready to allow American ships to pass through the Suez Canal under Egyptian terms provided they do so under protest against Egypt's operating arrangements.

Top officials who disclosed this today predicted such a go-ahead to pay tolls direct to the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority.

The government move would void earlier State Department "advice" that American ships keep away from the canal until physical and negotiating hazards involved in reopening the waterway had been overcome.

Some American commercial ships are reported already approaching the canal, anticipating that the government will lift the ban within a few days even though Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser has refused to meet Western operating terms.

The new American government attitude, officials said, would be made known about the time the Eisenhower administration officially informs the United Nations its confidential talks with Egypt have failed to yield a satisfactory settlement. Such a report is expected to be made to the Security Council sometime this week.

Two Are Injured In Two Crashes

One Driver in Each Wreck Is Cited

Two people were reported in "good" condition Tuesday as they recovered from injuries sustained in a pair of auto accidents in Washington C. H. Monday night and Tuesday morning.

"Resting well" at Memorial Hospital where he was taken after the car he was driving overturned on the Oakland Ave. bridge at the park about 9 p. m. Monday is Harold W. Shackelford, 16, of 610 W. Market St.

And in good condition at her 104 E. Paint St. home is Mrs. Jacob Spangler, 58, who was treated in the emergency room at Memorial Hospital for cuts and bruises she received when her car was involved in a collision at 8 a. m. Tuesday with a car driven by Charles E. Jordan, 36, of Bloomingburg.

SHACKLEFORD told police he was driving west on Oakland Ave. and thought he heard a horn behind him. He said he turned to see who was sounding it and smashed into the left side of the bridge.

Shackelford's auto, owned by his father, Edward S. Shackelford, hit the metal guard rail at the left side of the bridge, climbed about five feet, then rolled over and smashed into the other side of the bridge.

Pinned inside the demolished car, Shackelford suffered a broken right shoulder, cuts on his head and bruises on his left arm, police said. He was charged with reckless operation.

MRS. SPANGLER said she was going east on Temple St. and smashed into the auto driven by Jordan, which was coming down Lewis St. Crashing in the intersection, the Spangler auto was thrown south into Lewis St., while the Jordan auto caromed off Lewis into Temple St.

Mrs. Spangler told police she was in a hurry and did not notice a stop sign on Temple St. at the intersection. She was charged with failure to stop at the sign.

Youth Sentenced Here for Thefts

Several Drivers Fined in Court

A Washington C. H. youth was found guilty of theft and several people were sentenced on traffic charges by Municipal Court Judge Max G. Dice Tuesday morning.

Though the docket was small, lengthy hearings forced continuation of the court session into the afternoon. Three cases were still incomplete at 12 o'clock.

Billy Smith, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Smith, 708 Rose Ave., pleaded guilty to stealing $400 worth of auto parts from a Farm Bureau Co-op truck several weeks ago and was given a 30-day jail sentence.

The sentence was suspended on condition that he pay for damages to the parts taken, that he get a job within a week, and that he report to the police station every Saturday. Smith was arrested by Patrolman Herschel Taylor and confessed the theft while being questioned about other matters.

FINED $15 and costs after he pleaded guilty to passing illegally on a highway was Harold Barnhill, 22, of Cincinnati David Paul Jones, 46, of Dayton, pleaded innocent to a speeding charge, but was found guilty and paid a $5 fine and costs.

Forfeiting $20 bond for speeding was Clarence Fitch, 32, of Washington C. H., Edwin Dickey, 49, of Wilmington and Gillis Conley, 20, of Washington C. H.

Clinton Snayd, 24, of Glen Head, N. Y., forfeited $20 bond on a reckless operation charge, and Peter Coppocchia, 48, of Columbus, forfeited $20 on a charge of passing illegally.

William Rose Taken To Pen For Auto Theft

William Rose, 37, of Portsmouth, began a one-to-20 year term in the Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday after he was sentenced here Monday by Common Pleas Court Judge John P. Case for auto theft.

Rose, accused of stealing a car belonging to James Williams, 620 Rose Ave., March 14, pleaded not guilty at his arraignment in Common Pleas Court Friday.

Atty. John Bath was appointed by the court after the arraignment to represent Rose, and he filed the guilty plea for his client Monday morning.

Rose was captured by city police about 9 p. m. March 14 after the stolen auto he was driving crashed into a car owned by Mrs. Tom Smalley, 1227 S. Main St. The crash ended a 100 - mph chase through the streets of Washington C. H.

He was taken to Columbus by Sheriff Orland Hays.

News of World in Brief—

U. S. May OK Suez Use with Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is now about ready to allow American ships to pass through the Suez Canal under Egyptian terms provided they do so under protest against Egypt's operating arrangements.

Top officials who disclosed this today predicted such a go-ahead to pay tolls direct to the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority.

The government move would void earlier State Department "advice" that American ships keep away from the canal until physical and negotiating hazards involved in reopening the waterway had been overcome.

Some American commercial ships are reported already approaching the canal, anticipating that the government will lift the ban within a few days even though Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser has refused to meet Western operating terms.

The new American government attitude, officials said, would be made known about the time the Eisenhower administration officially informs the United Nations its confidential talks with Egypt have failed to yield a satisfactory settlement. OSLO. (AP)—Norway has told the Soviet Union that membership in NATO is a vital part of Norwegian policy for obtaining peace and security and it has no intention of quitting the Western defense alliance.

Moscow was given that word in reply to its threat that establishment of NATO guided missile and atomic weapon bases in Norway would bring atomic destruction in the event of war.

LONDON. (AP)—A U. S. plan for halting the production of nuclear material for weapons has received the support of Britain and France, but the Soviet Union still wants to know more about it. Harold Stassen presented the American plan last week, saying the program could take effect next April 1 provided an inspection system is worked out previously.

ALGIERS. (AP)—Algerian rebels killed 5 persons Monday, wounded 12 and kidnapped 10 others in an area 33 miles northeast of French Foreign Legion headquarters at Sidi Bel Abbes.

Tom Mark, Washington C. H. realtor, is enrolled in an eight-week course in principles and techniques of residential appraising, sponsored by the Dayton Real Estate Board at the University of Dayton.

The course covers all aspects of data collection and analysis. It is designed to give real estate men a basic knowledge of appraisal fundamentals.

Fayette and Madison counties were the only counties in this area showing an increase in sales of pre-paid tax receipts for the seven days ending March 30.

Fayette's sales were $6,720.49. A year ago during the same week the total was $5,695.96.

This brings to $332,204.88 sales in the county since last July 1, while for the same period starting July 1, 1955, the total was $335,574.12.

Fayette was one of 18 counties in the state where collections for the recent week showed gains over the same period a year ago.

Registering the largest total for the present calendar year, Ohio collections for the week ending March 30, amounted to $4,138,785.

Compared to the collections of $4,504,009 for the corresponding week a year ago, however, the current week's total represented a decline of $365,224, or 8.1 per cent.

The grand total revenues for the fiscal year to date amounted to $173,784,406 on March 30, including prepaid tax receipts, use tax and other collections.

This cumulative total exceeded the over-all collections of $170,613,936 for the same period last year by $3,170,470, or 1.85 per cent.

APPEAL ENTRY FILED

The Second District Court of Appeals has affirmed the judgment of Fayette County Probate Court in the case of Evelyn Reser vs. Ray R. Maddox, executor of the estate of Owen L. Brown, deceased, according to an entry filed in Common Pleas Court.

The appellate court found no error in the record.

The lower court's decision in the case had been appealed by the plaintiff.
